Will Rogers Remarks:

HEMPSTEAD (N. Y.) July 22. (To the Editor of the Times.) Flew down today to see Heeneys training. That's the first one of the four camps I have visited. The way the whole thing looks to me I don't see how this fellow Raskob can lose. He can sell every Democrat a car. See by the papers today that Al don't know when he will accept the nomination as they are having trouble getting the radio for him to accept over—that's a bigger thing nowadays than the election is. "When can I get the radio?" Be funny if the night some candidate accepted there was static and the audience could not tell if he accepted or not. I sometimes wonder how Lincoln ever let the people know he was in a mood to do some running.

WILL ROGERS.

REVOLUTION QUELLED

Portugal Quiet After Battle

Rebellious Officers Give Up Fight After Two Days of Blood-Letting

Seven Killed, Thirty More Wounded in Struggle as Government Wins

LISBON (Portugal) July 22. (AP)—Another attempted revolution in this much-disturbed country has been suppressed by the government after two days' duration but not without fighting in which seven persons were killed and thirty wounded. The army, navy and police remained loyal to the government. An official statement issued by the government says:

"Friday evening some officers of the Seventh Regiment stationed at Castello barracks mutinied, preventing their commander from entering the barracks and trying unsuccessfully to involve a portion of the Lisbon garrison in their movement. The government having secured itself of co-operation of all regiments of the garrison, immediately commenced a series of attacks and ordered artillery to take positions in order to suppress the mutiny."

GROUP ARRESTED
"Total stoppage of traffic in Lisbon was ordered and streets strongly patrolled by pickets and armored cars during the night. In the early hours of Saturday morning a storming force started a vigorous offensive supported by the"

Naval Pilot Hops for New York

Huge Seaplane Plans for Stops at Azores and Then Bermuda

Craft Built for Stability; Carries Relief Pilot and Radio Man

BREST (France) July 22. (AP)—At 1 o'clock this morning the French seaplane La Fregate reported by radio that it was about 370 miles from the Azores on the first leg of its flight to America.

BREST (France) July 22. (AP)—Another French airplane was out over the Atlantic tonight in an effort to span the ocean from east to west and to retrieve the failure of Coli and Nungesser.

The French seaplane La Fregate (the Frigate-Bird) rose from the waters of Brest Harbor at 5:05 p.m. today with New York as its goal. Naval Lieutenant Paulin Paris was at the controls, with Relief Pilot Marcel and Wireless Operator Cadou keeping him company aboard. Lieut. Paris expects to slip down into the harbor of Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, for breakfast and a fresh supply of gasoline tomorrow morning. From there he plans to fly to Bermuda and thence to New York, stopping at Bermuda for fuel if necessary.

If, upon arrival at New York, he finds a return flight feasible, he has been instructed by the French Navy and Commerce departments, under whose auspices the flight is being made, to fly back to Brest by way of Newfoundland.

The flight of La Fregate, like that of Commander Byrd's America, is more a scientific than a sporting affair. It is the first French effort to cross the North Atlantic by seaplane, and preparations for it have been in progress for more than a year.

La Fregate is built to stand rough weather, and the sky, but on the surface of the ocean, and is equipped with a wireless outfit capable of sending and receiving on both long and short-wave lengths.

The pilot said before taking off that he intended to go to position hourly, but four hours after he had disappeared in the western sky no word had been received from him. This omission, however, caused no anxiety here.

HEAD FOR AZORES
His plan is to cut across the Bay of Biscay, take a bearing off Cape Finisterre, Spain, and then head straight for the Azores. Meteorological and other reports from the vicinity of the route chosen are favorable.

The aviator, whose plane has been in perfect trim for weeks, received instructions from the Navy Department this morning to take off at any hour that seemed propitious to him. He was accompanied by the weather reports throughout the morning and at noon ordered the launch filled and hurried to his home to bid his family farewell.

The two 400-horsepower Gnome-Rhone-Jupiter motors set in tandem fashion directly atop the big biplane started shortly before 5 p.m. Lieut. Paris, after shaking hands with the well wishers who had come down to say good-by, took off at 5:05 p.m.

He circled for a few moments over the ships of the French Mediterranean squadron lying in the harbor and, then getting his direction, headed westward.

BREITLAND RECORD
Lieut. Paris, although but 30 years of age, has attained a brilliant record as a naval officer both for coolness and courage. Both his father and grandfather were generals in the French army.

P. C. Weller, vice-president of the company that leased the motors in the seaplane left for New York last Wednesday aboard the liner De Grasse and expects to accompany the aviators on the return flight. If the westbound flight is successful, Lieut. Paris expects to spend only a few days in New York and then start homeward by air.

Lieut. Paris is the only French aviator holding world's records in the seaplane class. Since August, 1927, he has held the altitude record for seaplanes loaded with 2000 kilograms, having attained a height of 4844 meters.

DEMOCRATS WORRIED

Southern Revolt Ominous

Anti-Smith Feeling Fails to Subside, But Gains New Momentum

Senators Hold Conference and Adopt Measures to Check Exodus

WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—Drums of revolt against Gov. Smith are throbbing so ominously and persistently throughout the solid South as to cause a state of distinct anxiety among Southern statesmen, particularly Senators and Congressmen up for re-election this year.

Things have not turned out as they expected. Following the Houston convention they predicted the anti-Smith feeling would subside and that the South would furnish approximately the normal Democratic majority. During the past week, however, there have been developments that have convinced them the insurrection is a serious reality. One was the Asheville dry convention, another was the meeting of the anti-Smith Democrats in Texas. Surveys and reports coming in from all parts of the South have drawn Democratic leaders to the reluctant conclusion that for the first time in fifty years they must wage a strenuous campaign to prevent Republican victory in States they have always heretofore considered safely Democratic.

SENATORS MEET
A group of disturbed southern Senators met here yesterday and decided it was up to them to fight to hold their States for the Democratic national ticket. Included in the group were Senators Claude A. Swanson, leader of the Democrats in Virginia; Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, party leader in Florida; Senator East Harrison, leader of the party organization in Mississippi; and Senator Key Pittman, a member of the Democratic National Advisory Committee. Even Virginia and Florida now are listed as doubtful.

As a result of the conference, Senator Swanson went to Virginia and personally took command of the Smith forces, organize the fight for the Old Dominion and remove the Old Dominion from the doubtful column. Senator Swanson candidly admits he is glad the election is not to be held tomorrow.

FLORIDA FIGHT
Senator Fletcher will assume leadership of the campaign to hold Florida for Smith. He opposed the Association for Smith but he has made it clear since the convention that he expects to remain "regular."

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, the sturdy old wheel horse of Southern politics, is not taking the conference. He opposed Smith's nomination with all his power and will decide to be regular, but he is not taking the conference. He is not taking the conference. He is not taking the conference.

Even the nomination of Senator Roosevelt to the Supreme Court appears to have failed to allay the dissatisfaction of thousands of Democrats in the South. Arkansas and Texas the Democratic regulars are becoming badly worried.

TEN DEATHS CAUSED BY RAIL STRIKE

Attempt to Wreck Train in South India Blocked; Police Fight Rioters

MADRAS, July 22. (Exclusive)—Disorders due to a general strike of employees of the South India Railroad have caused ten deaths. An attempt to wreck the Ceylon mail train en route to Madras was foiled when the obstructions were discovered on the tracks just before the train reached them.

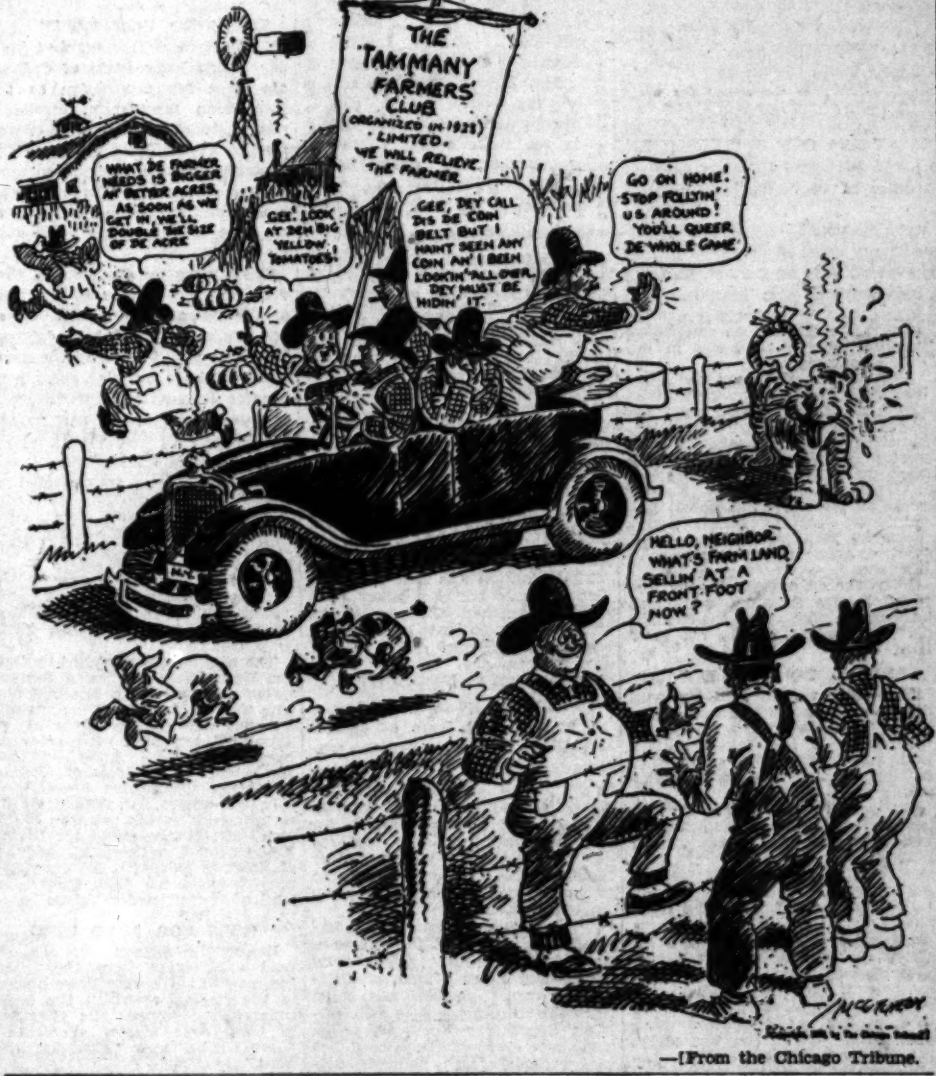

A European police sergeant was killed and nine policemen wounded in fighting the rioters at Mayavaram, where the police fired and charged with bayonets fixed, killing one and wounding several others. At Rameswaram eight were killed and fifteen wounded when police fired on the crowd.

Moscow is charged with supporting the strike disorder, not only by propaganda, but also by supplying money to Communist leaders in India. Police volunteers are patrolling the streets of the most dangerous districts in trucks.

EARTH SHOCKS RECORDED
ST. LOUIS, July 22. (AP)—Earth shocks of moderate intensity approximately 1700 miles south of St. Louis were recorded on the St. Louis University seismograph today. Shocks at about 1:35 p.m., the tremors continued for more than an hour.

WEALTHY MAN FOUND DEAD

EX-KAISER'S SCHEMES TO RULE NIPPED

Newspaper Says Wilhelm's Attempts bring Protest to Dutch Government

AMSTERDAM, July 22. (AP)—The Socialist newspaper Het Volk declares the former German Kaiser's attempts to re-establish himself in the Netherlands are being met by a formal protest to the Dutch government.

The newspaper publishes a translation of a letter it asserts was sent from Doorn to the "Kaiser Wilhelm Association" in Germany, in which the former Emperor thanks the association for its homage on the occasion of the consecration of its banner, and speaks of the time when it may become a question of freeing the German fatherland and re-establishing it under its Kaiser and hereditary prince.

The Het Volk declares that Friedrich Weller, "plenipotentiary representative of the German Complaint Bureau at Berlin," has addressed a formal protest to the Netherlands government against Wilhelm's "abuse of Dutch hospitality in this contributing to threaten the stability of international relations by publicly voicing designs for the restoration of the German monarchy." He has further called on the Netherlands government to forbid such demonstrations in the future.

Women in Quest of Nationality

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—The question of nationality of women, termed by Miss Doris Stevens in a "completely chaotic condition," will be the first subject of investigation and study by the Inter-American Commission of Women, of which Miss Stevens, representing the United States, is chairman.

The commission, recently appointed by the Pan-American Union to study the status of women in the twenty-one republics of the Western Hemisphere, chose this subject because of the prominent place it occupies on the agenda of the world conference on codification of law to be held in 1929.

"There is no uniformity in laws of nationality," Miss Stevens said today. "A woman may find herself possessed of several nationalities or none."

Two Local Girls Hurled in River

GUERNEVILLE (Cal.) July 22. (AP)—Two Los Angeles girls were in a crowd of twenty-five men, women and children who were plunged into the Russian River near here today, when a scow used to ferry rocks to a bathing beach "necessitated" and sank.

All were rescued by bathers. The Los Angeles girls are Mary Seivage and Mary Kallich.

FOUR KILLED IN CARNIVAL TRAIN CRASH

Five Cars Derailed While Crossing New Hampshire; Eight Persons Hurt

FARMINGTON (N. H.) July 22. (AP)—Four circus employees were killed and eight injured today, when five cars of a train carrying Barnard's shows, a small traveling carnival, were derailed by a broken drawbar at Place's Crossing, two miles from Farmington village.

A number of other circus employees are missing but officials say they may have been traveling by automobile instead of by train.

The carnival, which had been playing for a week at Lakewood, was moving to Gloucester, Mass. The twenty cars of the train were drawn by two Boston and Maine freight locomotives.

A number of circus employees were riding on the flat cars which were derailed when the cars left the tracks.

The bodies were identified tonight as M. D. Ollerhead, Philadelphia; Reginald Baggett, Lynchburg, Va.; and two negroes, George Monroe and one named Williams.

Air-Tour Planes Arrive at Minot

MINOT (N. D.) July 22. (AP)—The National Air Tour of twenty-two planes, swinging toward the home port of Detroit, today was loudly acclaimed by thousands of spectators on landing here for the night stop.

John N. Wood, piloting a Waco biplane, continues to lead the field by a wide margin.

The tour will be resumed tomorrow at 10 a.m. with Fargo and St. Paul the next stops on the itinerary.

NEW YORK HAS RACE RIOT

Three Thousand Negroes Battle Police and Hurt Four as Bullets and Bricks Fly

NEW YORK, July 22. (AP)—Three thousand negroes fought with police reserves from five stations tonight in a riot that began when a policeman arrested a negro whom a woman accused of breaking down the door of her Harlem apartment.

Two other policemen and a woman were injured, several shots were fired at police reserves from windows and bricks and bottles crashed into the street from roofs before the negroes were dispersed by firemen who turned streams of water on them.

Patrolman Henry De Sella attempted to arrest Clarence Donald, 30 years of age, a negro, when he heard a woman scream, "Get that man!" as Donald ran from a Lenox avenue building. Donald knocked De Sella down before the police emergency squad arrived, but the crowd was not dispersed until the five apparatus arrived.

The whole world knows that a gallant young Swedish aviator, Lieut. Einar-Paul Lundborg, now a captain, rescued Gen. Now, here, they are told by Lundborg himself, for the first time.

ABOARD STEAMSHIP QUEST, AT SEA OFF SPITZBERGEN. July 22. (Exclusive)—It was with great pleasure that the crew of my Fokker plane received orders June 21 to begin landing and mounting our machine.

The ships Quest and Tanja were lying at Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, and two Hansa machines already were at work searching for the missing men of the Italia's crew. But as no use had yet been found for the Fokker the mounting of the machine had been temporarily discontinued.

Ice conditions were far from satisfactory at Virgo Bay and it really was no small job to get all equipment hauled ashore. Both lifeboats of the Tanja were converted into a raft. On the body of the plane was landed, and later two lower wings, one at a time.

PLANE PROVES HEAVY
It was a transport of 1500 meters toward the edge of the ice which we had examined the previous day and found well suited as a mounting ground for the plane. Single parts of the Fokker weighed heavily. The upper wing alone weighed 450 kilos, and was sixteen meters long. Our task was far from light, but Carlson, Welbar, Gull and Nelson, mechanics, joined the crew.

Our mounting room was a giant snow grotto. Owing to its long distance from the ship the work took a long time. But when on the night of June 22, with the midnight sun shining brilliantly, No. 21 my machine—look to it wings for the first trial flight over the rocks, glaciers and fjords of Spitzbergen, cheering cheers were sent up from the nearby men who had helped in the work of mounting.

BASE PLANNED
After the motor and the radio had proved to be functioning excellently, and after I had made a half-hour's exploratory flight over the neighboring area, I landed on the eastern lowlands of Amsterdam Island. There I had planned to establish a base for the Fokker for the time being.

There still was plenty of snow, which was rather compact and

INDIAN LEGION IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Bullhead Post in South Dakota Composed Entirely of Full-Blood Sioux

BULLHEAD (S. D.) July 22. (Exclusive)—The only American Legion Post known in the United States whose members are all Indians is the Bullhead Post on the Standing Rock reservation.

In the South Dakota State Legion convention seventeen full-blood Sioux Indians, dressed in the regalia of their tribe, represented the post and a full-blood Sioux girl, Phoebe Achambault, took part in the State beauty contest staged by the convention. Chief Straight Pine is commander of the post.

Chinese raised itself three meters above the stubby snow field. I found the petrel the Fokker weighed nearly two tons. When after an unexpectedly speedy start I had reached a height of 300 meters, I saw that the chief and Jacobson's Hansa had gone up toward the Virgo Bay entrance. A few minutes later I had joined them and all three machines were on their way east.

The intention was that the three planes should travel together until they had reached Hindeloop Straits. There Jacobson should go down, whereupon the chief and I without any intermediate landing would proceed direct to Nobile's camp.

ALL TO BE RESCUED
I was to land there as quickly as possible, take up one of the marooned party and then hurry back to Hindeloop Straits. Meantime Jacobson and Rosenwald were to wait for me on the island.

It is not easy to describe my impression of this first flight over a vast, desolate, inhospitable area. Everywhere I saw islands of drifting ice, great glaciers and steep bluish-green cliffs. East of Hindeloop Straits lay North America, a gigantic evenly sloping ice desert with a circle of tall, pointed, tent-shaped mountains, between deep fjords carved into the ice.

I almost forgot my task looking at this wild and grand panorama. The hour was approaching 3 p. m. and the sun still hung high in the sky. Seals ducked hurriedly into their waterholes when now and again I went low over the ice to examine its fitness for landing.

The tracks of polar bears, big round marks visible like a road at a distance of several meters, went from one water hole to another. Bears evidently found good meals at the seal holes. The great loneliness thus was the void of life as it appeared from the heights.

At length we left the coast and steered toward Broch Island and Foy Island. There was ice as far as the eye could see, but there was not one even ice plain where one could travel by ice boat. The ice desert was composed of gigantic heaps with here and there small oases or islands of ice. There was far too little foothold for landing.

CHIEF'S PLANE TURNS
Broch and Foy islands looked anything but inviting. They seemed like tremendous piles of ice raised up from the ice. And now the vast pack ice was before us, pitiless, yet majestic.

What was the use of all our inventions if this ice hold of us? After about thirty kilometers flight across the monotonous, broken and towering vastness of the pack ice, the chief's Hansa made a turn to the right.

"Look down there," the chief shouted.

I saw what looked like small pinheads. They were a couple of living human beings. A thin spray of smoke lifted near them. A moment later a little white smoke into view, some colored flags and a small mast with a banner at the top.

And now I caught sight of a T-shaped landing mark which Nobile, following a request dropped to him, had set up to indicate a suitable landing place for my Fokker. Here it was, then.

The Hansa machine made some big swings around the camp at a good height and I tried to go down on the ice floe which formed the most northerly landing place I ever had selected.

COOLIDGE AWAITS WILBUR

President and Family Attend Church Services and Prepare to Receive Naval Chief

SUPERIOR (Wis.) July 22. (P)—With the usual lack of ceremony President and Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John, attended church at Brule today.

Arriving somewhat late for the service, the distinguished guests took hardly any notice on their arrival of the cheering and handclapping with which they were received by thousands of tourists who had gone to Brule attracted by the opportunity to see the Chief Executive and the first lady of the land.

Special fences erected since last Sunday on the sidewalk outside the church kept the crowds within limits and allowed President and Mrs. Coolidge a free path to the church from their car. Numerous State and Superior police handled the traffic. John Taylor, the blind preacher, selected the third verse of the chapter of the second book of Samuel for the text of his sermon by which, he said, he hoped to impress on his congregation the kindness of God to mankind.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge are prepared to welcome tomorrow Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department at Cedar Lake Lodge for a visit which probably will extend over the night. Mr. Wilbur was invited by the Chief Executive to call at the summer White House where the latter heard that the Naval Secretary was on his way to California to participate in maneuvers of the Pacific

HOOVER SPENDS QUIET SUNDAY

Candidate, Wife and Son Go to Church Services

Auto Ride in Afternoon Only Recreation of Day

Conference With Rolph to Take Place Tuesday

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 22. (P)—Herbert Hoover's first Sunday in his home State of California since his nomination as the Republican Presidential candidate was a quiet one. He attended church services at the Stanford University Memorial Chapel in the morning, took an automobile ride in the afternoon and spent the remainder of his day quietly at his home with his family.

There were no conferences, that with Mayor Rolph as to the time of the homecoming celebration at San Francisco having been deferred until Tuesday. Tomorrow the nominee will have as his guest here Senator Johnson of California, who is expected to have a part in the coming Presidential campaign.

WIFE IN BLACK
Mr. Hoover was accompanied to church by Mrs. Hoover, their son, Allan; Mrs. Hoover's sister, Mrs. Jean Large, and Dr. Ray Wilson, president of Stanford University.

The nominee wore a gray fedora hat and a conventional morning clothes, while Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. Large were in black with black satin coats.

The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Boyce Kerr Tupper, a Presbyterian minister from Los Angeles, who took his text from the seventh chapter and seventeenth verse of John—"If any man willeth to do the will of the Father, he must love him that sent him."

Gen. Oregon will be declared elected, but when he fails to appear in Congress for his notification that body will declare an emergency and name a provisional President.

GOES FOR AUTO RIDE
Before the sermon Dr. Tupper read a selection from the first Psalm, and there were three hymns in the singing of which the large congregation joined. "Ye Servants of God," "Love Divine" and "Proclaim the Lord."

Immediately after the services Mr. Hoover and his family drove directly home for luncheon and the nominee rested on a piazza overlooking the bay until the afternoon.

COMMITTEE TO HANDLE G.O.P. FUNDS SELECTED
WASHINGTON, July 22. (Exclusive)—J. R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, through Washington headquarters, today announced the formation of a national contributors committee under the direction of John W. O'Leary of Chicago.

The plan outlined by Mr. Nutt has the approval of Chairman Work and will be put into effect at once, under the direction of O'Leary, who is the first headquarters at Chicago.

The object in organizing the national contributors committee is to give all citizens an opportunity to assist in financing the campaign, and to aid the work of the national treasurer, and his assistants.

"Because of Mr. Hoover's record, his popularity and his great service to all of the people of the United States," Mr. O'Leary's committee will receive nationwide contributions to an extent hitherto undreamed of as regards number of contributors," Mr. Nutt said.

Mr. O'Leary served two years as president of the Chicago Association of Commerce at a time when all of its energies were given to war work. He recently served for two years as president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

National Chairman Work left tonight for New York, where he will confer tomorrow with Republican national committee men from the New England and other eastern States.

DR. GEORGE CALVIN DIES

UNION CHIEFTAIN OF MEXICO QUILTS

Southern Methodist Asks If Wet Plea's Excusable

Platform Declared to Mean Four-Year Enforcement

Any Plan to Change Laws Called Unwarranted

ATLANTA, July 22. (P)—Calling attention to the prohibition plank in the party platform, Bishop W. N. Ainsworth of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in an open letter to Maj. John S. Cohen, Democratic National Committeeman, and G. E. Maddox, chairman of the State legislative committee, asks if the party nominees have a right to advocate modification of the law.

In his letter Bishop Ainsworth says that the party pledged itself and its nominees to "honest enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment," and that it was not amended "for one month, six months, or two years, but for the four years of the national administration, if entrusted to them."

QUESTION ASKED
"To enforce for this time," the bishop wrote, "excludes all idea of modification, weakening, nullification, repeal or substitution of the specific thing that they have pledged an honest effort to enforce."

Recalling the history of the plank, the rejection of a "wet" plank by the Democratic Committee, on acceptance of the chairmanship, announcing his intention to work for repeal of the prohibition law, and which the canvass of the vote of the recent Presidential election will be made.

RASKOB MENTIONED
The letter also called attention to the statement of John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, on acceptance of the chairmanship, announcing his intention to work for repeal of the prohibition law, and which the canvass of the vote of the recent Presidential election will be made.

Gen. Oregon will be declared elected, but when he fails to appear in Congress for his notification that body will declare an emergency and name a provisional President.

While Senator Sarna is acceptable to the Oregonians the probability is, according to Tople, that President Calles will be asked to continue in office. The plan as outlined by Tople will involve the holding of a new general election July 19, 1930.

WILL AVERT CRISIS
Tople expressed his belief that the resignation of Luis Morones, Secretary of Labor, will have a tranquilizing effect throughout the nation, saying there is little likelihood of disturbances since the resignations have been made and

"Seventy-five per cent of the Mexican people are Oregonians," he said. "Peace will prevail because of the resignation of Morones."

Tople is one of the most powerful political figures in Mexico. Although he is only 35 years of age and has been in politics but five years, he was one of the dead President-elect's ablest lieutenants. He personally supervised the military record as a fearless officer.

Sarna, whom Tople mentions as a possible provisional President, formerly was Minister of Foreign Relations in the Calles Cabinet, resigning to become Governor of Nueva Leon. His sister is the wife of Plutarco Calles, son of the President.

NEW YORK, July 22. (P)—U. S. Atty. Tuttle announced today that he will begin an investigation of the activities of an organization known as "The National Hoover-for-President League."

The New York State Hoover campaign committee already has asked the league to discontinue its activities on the ground that it is unauthorized by the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Tuttle said the Hoover forces in New York have complained to his office about the activities of the organization, and at Hoover campaign headquarters it was said that postoffice authorities have been asked to investigate the league's use of the mails in an asserted advertising scheme. Information obtained by members of the Hoover committee, it was said at Hoover headquarters here, is that the league intends to publish a book or magazine in which high rates will be asked for advertisements.

NEW YORK, July 22. (P)—U. S. Atty. Tuttle announced today that he will begin an investigation of the activities of an organization known as "The National Hoover-for-President League."

The New York State Hoover campaign committee already has asked the league to discontinue its activities on the ground that it is unauthorized by the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Tuttle said the Hoover forces in New York have complained to his office about the activities of the organization, and at Hoover campaign headquarters it was said that postoffice authorities have been asked to investigate the league's use of the mails in an asserted advertising scheme. Information obtained by members of the Hoover committee, it was said at Hoover headquarters here, is that the league intends to publish a book or magazine in which high rates will be asked for advertisements.

artillery. The rebels quickly submitted and about 8 o'clock in the morning the mutinous officers, some noncommissioned officers and civilians who had joined the movement, were arrested.

"The government, being aware of the existence of other insurrectionary centers outside of Lisbon, took similar precautions with complete success to prevent outbreaks. During the attack on Castelo Branco barracks the artillery did some damage to adjacent houses, injuring some occupants, the total casualties being estimated at seven killed and thirty wounded, including one mutinous officer and some soldiers.

REVOLT QUELLED
"The movement had a political character, being directed against the present regime, but it lacked the moral atmosphere for success. The army, navy, national guard and police manifested upon more their entire adherence to the government, which is completely master of the situation, and has by this morning insured return to normal life and resumption of traffic, holding it to be useless to maintain restrictive measures in view of the confident attitude of the inhabitants.

"The government, however, reserves to itself the right to act vigorously against all persons who attempt to disturb the atmosphere of peace and work essential for the accomplishment of the national task."

Leader Says Democrats
Growers' Hope

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—A special attempt to line up the public agricultural and farm owners for Gov. Smith has been launched here with formation of the Smith Independent League.

Announcing the league today, Henry Clay Brown, former Republican House member from North Dakota, and his associates election of the Democratic "imperative" of the party to be saved from a farm peasantry.

While national in scope, league plans to concentrate in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas.

Will be Charles Hanson, former New York editor, as vice-chairman, Melvin D. Hildreth, secretary, and Wilson Independent League, North Dakota in 1916 as director.

Preliminary organization of league now is being conducted but the working headquarters related to be established in Middle West by September 1.

"Because there is no party in patriotism," Hanson said in a statement, "I consider it my duty to support the one candidate who represents the farmers of the United States as men and not peasants."

DEATH PENALTY GIVEN
BANDIT-CAR DRIVER

KANSAS CITY, July 22. (AP)—Verdict of guilty in the case of John Messino, charged with the slaying of a policeman, was returned today by the jury.

"Happy" Smith, was brought to jury here today and the death sentence was pronounced.

Smith was shot fatally in the chest from the scene of the slaying of a policeman on June 14. The State says that Messino drove the car in which the robbers escaped.

Conservatism

(Copyright, 1928, by the Chicago Tribune)

SHANGHAI, July 22. (Exclusive)—While both France and Denmark have replied in a conciliatory manner to China's proposal for treaty revision, the Japanese government is adopting a belligerent attitude.

According to Nationalist government officials, a Japanese ultimatum to China is expected.

Dr. C. T. Wang, Foreign Minister of the Nationalist government, today denounced the Japanese declaration that China's action in terminating the Sino-Japanese commercial treaty was a "diplomatic outrage."

"The Japanese commercial treaty officially expired October 20, 1926," he said, "and in accordance with the treaty's terms the Japanese government served six months' notice on Japan asking for the negotiation of a new treaty, to which Japan agreed."

EXTENSIONS GRANTED

"Sino-Japanese negotiations then started, but when they could not be completed within the six months' period China agreed to a three months' extension. Since that time the Japanese government has granted five successive extensions of three

Assassination Planned for
Canfranc, Spain

Other Officials Also Had
Been Marked for Death

PARIS, July 22. (Exclusive)—A plot to assassinate King Alfonso of Spain during his meeting with President Doumergue of France at Canfranc, Spain, last Wednesday, was nipped in the bud, the French secret service announced today.

When four leaders of a Franco-Spanish anarchist band were safely locked up in Carcassonne prison.

Discovering the conspiracy a few days before the Canfranc ceremony, the police quietly spread a net over the frontier towns and rounded up the leaders, who were working on French soil carrying out orders from Barcelona.

Documents found in the pockets of the accused show that the plotters, reinforced by large numbers of French and Spanish anarchists, expected to be equipped with arms at the Spanish border. They were to descend on Canfranc and shoot King Alfonso and other Spanish officials as the latter arrived to greet the President of France, who was to inaugurate the great new trans-Pyrenean tunnel.

CHICAGO, July 22. (AP)—Stockholders of the Palmolive-Peet Company have approved a merger with Colgate & Co., creating a new corporation with combined sales of $100,000,000.

Amendments to the certificate of incorporation voted to increase to 3,000,000 shares the common stock of the authorized capital stock. It further provides for authorization of 300,000 shares of 8 per cent preferred stock. One hundred and thirty thousand shares will be issued immediately to replace the outstanding 7 per cent preferred stock of both companies.

Charles S. Pearce, president of the new company, stated the increased authorization in the common stock will make possible a substantial stock dividend to Palmolive-Peet Company stockholders.

CROWDS BOW TO FUNERAL TRAIN

Carranza's Body Viewed at His Home Town

Throng Line Route to Pay Final Tribute

Cortege Due at Mexico City This Morning

CARRANZA FUNERAL TRAIN (Mexico) July 22. (AP)—Many thousands of Mexicans, high and low, paid their final tribute to the memory of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican flying ace, as the funeral train bearing his body sped through the State of San Luis Potosi today. At every station persons gathered, their heads uncovered, as the funeral coach passed.

Perhaps the most touching scene occurred at Ramos Arizpe, the home town of the "good will" flyer where the train halted for an hour in order that Capt. Carranza's friends might bow before the casket. First of all to appear was his aged nurse, who broke into tears and cried "Poor Emilio." Peasants and schoolmasters stood about the coffin, tears running down their cheeks.

At Saltillo, where the train stopped for two hours and a half,

HUSSEY FUSSY IN FARCE

"Murdered" Author Disgustedly Sits in Jail Facing Statutory Charges of "Slayer-Wife"

NORRISTOWN (Pa.) July 22. (Exclusive)—A jealous wife and her disgraced author-husband sat in separate cells of the Montgomery County Jail tonight as their comedy, "Love Among the Intelligencia," replaced the great Hussey murder mystery—a mystery rather sharply deflated last night by the discovery that the supposed victims of a woman scorned are enjoying excellent health.

But one person—the jealous wife, Dr. Virginia Alvarez Hussey, physician, held her role.

Although he is in the same jail she still hysterically insists that she slew her husband and the woman blond, Grace Seuer, thrice-divorced heiress of the Telfow Perfume millions.

Whether Mrs. Hussey still is suffering from emotional insanity, or whether she means to press still further what the police insist is a cleverly devised plan to humiliate the casket was taken to the State Normal School. There a student delivered a funeral oration in which he declared that Capt. Carranza and Col. Lindbergh have woven a new link joining Mexico and the United States. Then the body was returned to the train in a slow procession of townspeople under the dim light of street lamps. A band with black-draped drums played slow music while a detachment of cavalry acted as escort.

At San Luis Potosi there was another halt and a similar demonstration with the military garrison local societies participating. The train is expected to arrive at Tacuba, just outside of Mexico City, at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

LAW'S EFFECTS TO BE STUDIED

Institute at Johns Hopkins University Announced

Four of Faculty Members Already Appointed

Financial Provisions Made for Five Years

BALTIMORE (Md.) July 22. (Exclusive)—Johns Hopkins University announced today the establishment of an institute for the study of law, which will devote itself to research concerning legal problems and their social and economic significance, rather than to the training of lawyers. Dr. Joseph S. Ames, acting president of the university, declared that the institute will be the first of its kind in this country.

Four of the faculty already have been appointed. They are Walter Wheeler Cook, professor of law at Yale; Herman Oliphant, professor of law at Columbia; Leon Carroll Marshall, director of economics and business at the University of Chicago; and Hessel Edward Yntema, professor of Roman law and jurisprudence at Columbia.

The institute will be organized when the university opens this fall. Dr. Ames said that financial provisions have been made to support

TREASURE HUNT IN OLD MISSOURI

Wreck of Kate Sweeney, Early Day Boat, With Load of Furs Sought

ELK POINT (S. D.) July 22. (Exclusive)—With powerful pumps to draw out sand and water from the bed of the Missouri River, James Wenner and Fred Wilson, an Englishman, are at work to find treasure.

When the Kate Sweeney, one of the early river boats, went down three-quarters of a century ago.

The treasure is not gold but furs, bought from the Indians Wenner and Wilson have in their possession a map showing the locality where it is supposed the Kate Sweeney went down and they believe that the furs, buried in the sand, have remained practically intact. If so, they would be worth many thousands of dollars.

The institute for the study of law for five years. In the meantime, he said, an effort will be made to provide for the present institute. He pointed out that as far back as 1910 the university included in its program of expansion a school of applied sciences, a school of public hygiene, a school for teachers, and a school of jurisprudence. The establishment of the present institute rounds out this program.

The primary purposes in the establishment of the institute, according to Dr. Ames and B. Howell Griswold, Jr., chairman of the trustees committee on the foundation of the institute, are briefly: The study of the economic and social effects of law; the clarification and simplification of law; the training of jurists and codifiers; and the guidance of writers of textbooks and thinkers upon the human effects of law.

RESEARCH IN LAW

"The Johns Hopkins," said Dr. Ames, "is not establishing a school for the training of practicing lawyers, but an institute for research in the law. Although much time and study have already been devoted to plans for the institute's future development, the results, members of the originating group believe, will be regarded only as material for consideration, as they desire to be entirely unhampered by preconceived ideas."

"We believe that the establishment of this institute is as important a step forward for the law as any ever taken in this country," Dr. Ames added. "Not only is it fraught with significance for members of that profession, heralding, as it does, a new day in legal science and education, but also it is one in full accordance with the traditional policy of the Johns Hopkins University."

Among those who have underwritten the cost of the institute for the first three years are: Edwin O. Bastler, Theodore Marburg, Daniel Willard, and other trustees. Mr. Griswold and Jacob Epstein, all of Baltimore.

Education Plan for Voters Told

WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—A nonpartisan program designed to aid in a thorough and intelligent functioning of the electorate was announced today by Miss Bellesherwein, president of the National League of Women Voters, in reaffirming the traditional policies of the organization, which will be continued in the 1928 Presidential campaign.

Political facts with neither pro-Republican nor pro-Democratic flavor will be made available to voters wherever the league is organized in the form of pamphlets on the mechanics of voting, local election laws and absentee voting privileges. The league has prepared publications containing the platforms of the two major parties, a handbook for guidance of voters' schools, which occupy first place in the organization's educational program this year.

Halitosis ruins romance—end it

How can you expect attention from others—especially of the opposite sex—when you have halitosis (unpleasant breath)? Many a vacation and pleasure trip that otherwise would have been jolly and romantic has been a failure because of it. Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis. Because you simply cannot know when you are a victim. Halitosis does not announce itself. Unknowingly, you may offend. Why take the chance at all?

Simply use Listerine. Then, if you have halitosis, it ends. If you don't, it keeps you fresh and fit that Listerine always does. Listerine ends halitosis because it is a powerful germicide. If you need proof, rub a bit of cotton wool soaked in Listerine over your mouth and then apply Listerine. You will immediately feel the difference. Even the most delicate Listerine Flavors: Peppermint, Spearmint, Eucalyptus, St. Louis, Mo. U.S.A.

New Mexico Property Goes to Cattleman

Deal With Texan Involves 750,000 Acres

DENVER, July 22 (AP)—The Denver Post said today that the great Albert B. Fall ranch at Three Rivers, N. M., has been acquired under contract of purchase by Clay Mann, Texas cattleman, who announced the deal in Denver.

Author Leaves Art Colony With Dorothy Loeb

PROVINCETOWN (Mass.) July 22 (AP)—Maxwell Bodenheim, New York novelist, has left the art colony here for an unannounced destination in company with his youthful literary protégée, Miss Dorothy Loeb of New York, and her father, Dr. Martin J. Loeb, it was learned here tonight. The departure of the three in company occasioned surprise here in view of the fact that Dr. Loeb had threatened to "thrash" Bodenheim after his daughter had been found here.

GOLD STREAMS FROM AMERICA

World Distribution Greatly Changed in 1928

France Took $257,000,000 of Precious Metal

Its Restoration as Standard Given as Cause

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—An important redistribution of gold throughout the world was witnessed in the fiscal year 1928 when, the Federal Reserve Board reported today, the stock of gold in this country was reduced about $257,000,000 from the peak reached in May, 1927.

FORESTERS TO CONFER

SACRAMENTO, July 22 (AP)—Maj. R. Y. Stuart, new United States forester, will confer here the 30th inst. with Fred O. Stevenot, director of natural resources, and M. B. Pratt, State forester, on Federal-State co-operation in conservation activities. Stuart, appointed May 1 to succeed W. B. Greeley, will be accompanied on his first official tour by S. B. Shaw, district United States forester for California and Nevada.

This point about oil is too important to neglect --

How much carbon does it form?

What kind?

Even the costliest oils form more carbon. A sample of this oil, when burned, left more than three times as much as Shell Motor Oil.

An equal sample of improved Shell Motor Oil left only this small fraction of carbon—less than any other oil you can buy.

It gets under valve seats, holds the valves open for the stems to burn, to waste power on every stroke.

Shell Motor Oil forms less carbon than even the costliest oils. What little carbon it forms is soft and sooty—carbon that blows away through the exhaust.

High-vacuum stills at Shell refineries produce this amazing new oil. Unlike old-fashioned stills that "scorch" oil in the refining, this new equipment works at such low pressure and temperature that all the lubricant qualities are retained.

Shell Motor Oil withstands intense heat and sudden changes which would ruin less fine oil.

And with this smoother, surer lubrication you get the important benefits of less carbon, soft carbon—saving the wear hard carbon causes—adding thousands of miles to the life of your car.

Refill with Shell Motor Oil. Use it regularly until you can tell how clean it keeps your engine.

To those who drive late model cars

Today's high compression motors have as little as one thirty-second of an inch "clearance" between cylinder head and pistons—too little space to allow even a thin layer of hard carbon without causing trouble. Shell Motor Oil, forming less carbon, soft carbon, is almost an essential to proper performance of motors of this type.

See the difference

Figure 1 shows carbon scrapings that were deposited by ordinary oil. Such carbon is hard, flinty; it will tear paper; it will scratch brass—wear away steel.

The little carbon that Shell Motor Oil forms is soft, soot-like. See in figure 2 how it merely smudges the paper—most of it blows away through the exhaust.

Figure 1

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that explodes cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas.

Alert Cameraman Brings News and Views From Here and There

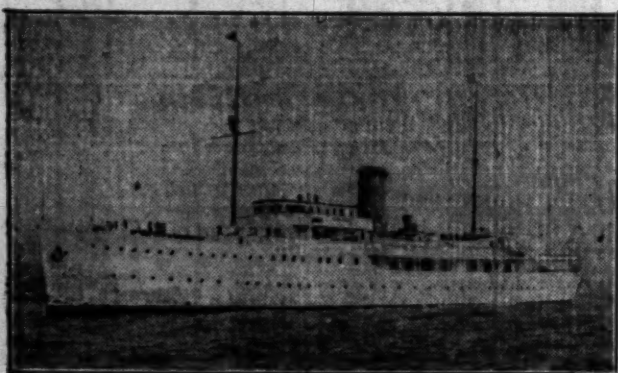

Felled by the Hand of Progress.—Destruction of roadside trees on Valley Boulevard between El Monte and Alhambra in the Rosemead district is proceeding apace to make way for public improvement. Thirty and forty-year-old eucalypti and pepper trees are being laid low by ax and tractor.

Where Man Bows to the Tree.—A beautiful road in Glacier National Park leading from the mammoth log gateway hotel into the mountains. What irony that man travels far to enjoy trees and comes home and pulls them down. (A. P. photo.)

Germans to Show Us Some Glider Stunts.—The three German glider pilots, Paul Laubenthal, Peter Hesselbach and Capt. Paul Roehre, are at Camp Meigs with a sleek little glider plane, a replica of the motorless craft which they piloted in the war. They have established a record of remaining aloft 14h. and 23m. (P. & A. photo.)

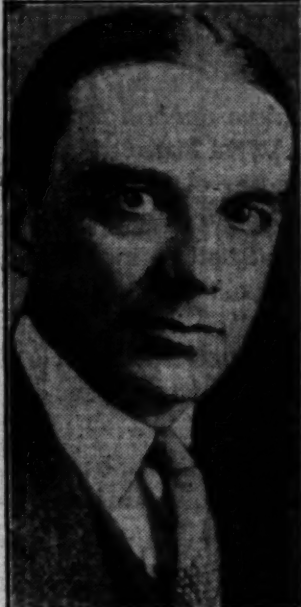

Vincent Astor's New Yacht.—A miniature ocean liner. Cruising radius, 19,000 miles, and cost $600,000. (P. & A. photo.)

Military Honors to Mexico's Ace.—As the funeral cortege escorting the body of Capt. Emilio Carranza, the flyer, reached the Pennsylvania Station, New York, a detachment of the military escort fired a volley over the casket. The young aviator from Mexico was killed when his plane was struck by a bolt of lightning. (P. & A. photo.)

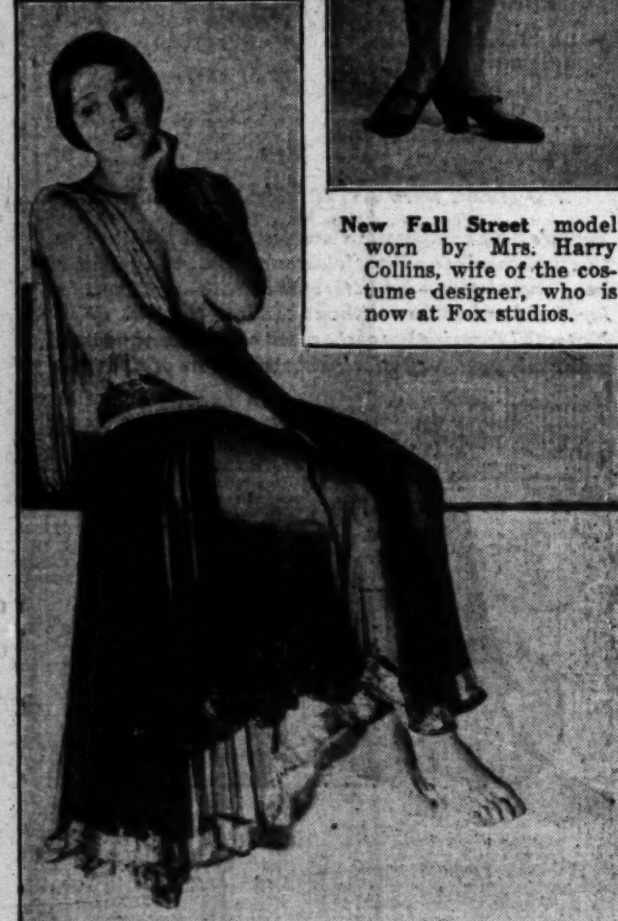

When Two Busses Buss.—Thirty-three persons were injured when two crowded motor busses came together during the evening rush hour on Michigan avenue and Thirty-third street, Chicago. Here is how one looked after the crash. (P. & A. photo.)

Studio Club Girls Model for Charity.—Lita Chevret, whose interesting dance productions are attracting attention in Hollywood, will be among those who will pose at the Wasps' benefit at United Artist studios August 11.

Blind Since Birth, Girl Sees.—Marcella Calkins, 20 years of age, of Chetek, Wis., although blind since birth is beginning to see after delicate operations in a Milwaukee hospital. (P. & A. photo.)

Her Father Was a Millionaire.—Isobel Stone (above) and sister Peggy, are living in poverty on a barge in New York City trying to work back to Broadway via music and sculpture. Six years ago their father left a $8,000,000 estate. (P. & A. photo.)

Now, Come the Germans with the largest type of Zeppelin, Graf Zeppelin, recently launched. The Germans hope to beat the British across the Atlantic with passengers. The new airship is building the R-100. (P. & A. photo.)

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 1087

The Philippine Commission

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN.
EARLY IN APRIL, 1899, A FEW DAYS AFTER THE CAPTURE OF MALOLOS, A PHILIPPINE COMMISSION, APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT McKinley, ARRIVED IN THE ISLANDS. IT WAS HEADED BY JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN, PRESIDENT OF CORNELL UNIVERSITY. THE OTHER MEMBERS BEING DEAN WORCESTER, ADMIRAL DEWEY, GENERAL OTIS AND CHARLES DENNY.

THE FIRST ACT OF THE COMMISSION (APRIL 4TH) WAS TO ISSUE A PUBLIC PROCLAMATION ASSERTING THAT WHILE ENFORCING THE SUPREMACY OF THE UNITED STATES THROUGHOUT THE PHILIPPINE ARCHPELAGO, THE PURPOSE OF THE GOVERNMENT WAS TO PROMOTE THE WELFARE AND ADVANCEMENT OF THE PEOPLE.

THE OBJECT OF THE COMMISSION WAS TO STUDY CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES AS A MEANS OF ADOPTING A PERMANENT FORM OF GOVERNMENT FOR THE ISLANDS TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THE TEMPORARY MILITARY GOVERNMENT GENERAL MERRITT HAD ESTABLISHED.

THE SCHURMAN COMMISSION WAS THE FIRST OF ITS KIND. NATIVE CHIEFS AND PRINCIPALS OF THE ISLANDS WERE CALLED TO WASHINGTON, CIVILIZED, DIVIDED INTO SEVEN GROUPS, SPEAKING ITS OWN LANGUAGE, TO TURN TO THE UNITED STATES FOR HELP. THE SCHURMAN REPORTED THAT THE PHILIPPINES WOULD NOT BE QUALIFIED TO GOVERN THEMSELVES FOR A LONG TIME.

TOP BOTTLES FLY AS SEALS DEFEAT STARS TWICE

OH! FOR THE LIFE OF AN UMPIRE; ESPECIALLY A BUM UMPIRE

It's little things that start big wars, as has been remarked in the past and was proven yesterday at Wrigley Field, where the Stars beat the Seals in a double-header, featured by a riot. Top photo shows some of the disgruntled fans milling around in front of the Hollywood dug-out, through which the umpires disappeared on their way to their quarters between games. Police finally drove the fans back in the stands. Middle shot shows a part of the battle field strewn with cushions. Ah! and then we have the umpires returning to the field for the second game. Arrow points to Magerkurth, who prevented Kolls, at left, from calling Rehg's drive safe in the ninth. Oscar Vitt is seen telling Magerkurth a few things, while Westervelt is the arbiter in the foreground.

Kolls and Magerkurth Fail to See Player Drop Ball and Sheiks Are Robbed of Victory

BY BOB RAY

Nick Williams's San Francisco Seals handed the Hollywood Stars a double licking yesterday at Wrigley Field in an afternoon featuring a riot that was brought on when Umpires Kolls and Magerkurth failed to see Roy Johnson drop a line drive and their shortsightedness cost the Vittmen a victory in the ninth inning of the first game.

The decision was absolutely the rankest ever made in these parts and the fans showed their displeasure by showering the field with cushions and pop bottles and milling after the umpires as they disappeared through the dug-out to their dressing-room between games. A squad of police and plain clothes men were recruited by Wrigley Field officials to protect the umpires from the fans, but the second game was halted spasmodically during the first three innings when the case customers decided it was time to toss down a few more bottles and cushions.

The "blind" decision robbed the Stars of two runs and allowed the Seals to win the opener, 4 to 2. In the second game the Seals and Stars battled evenly until General Jelley hit his thirteenth home run of the season to start the tenth inning. Three more hits produced another pair of runs off Frank Shellenback and the Seals won out, 5 to 2, the victory giving them the odd game of the series.

A double by Slade and a single by Bill Rodda put a run over in the second. Rodda was going great in the afternoon for he slammed out four hits in four times up. Two more scored in the third on hits by Fillette, Swannish, Finn and Huff.

Another counted in the fourth on hits by Green and Rodda and an infield out. Osborne was blasted out in the fifth when, a lefthander, followed him and he escaped unhurt, but by the time he began pitching the Missions had runs enough, for Fillette was moving the Angels down like Old Man Time swinging his scythe.

One of the largest crowds at Wrigley Field baseball history turned out for the double-header and it was estimated that 23,000 fans were on hand.

All the excitement was caused in the ninth inning of the opener. The Stars were trailing, 4 to 2. Rehg was at the plate with a count 3 and 2 on him. Shellenback was on third with the cycle run and Twombly on second with a winning run and there were two out. That's what you call a situation and Rehg increased the excitement by fouling off a couple to prolong the agony.

Rehg finally lined one into left field that Johnson came to bat.

THREE-SECOND SPURT BY TUNNEY IMPRESSES

Tunney and Mays went through the first round as they have done many times before at a fair speed. Gene was hitting hard and clean, but was holding back enough steam to encourage Mays to mix with him.

The pair rested for a minute and started again. Then came the real Tunney mauling his face with a snarl and gritting his teeth, the champion drew Mays out of position with a left foot and then shot three swift right hooks to the sparring partner's jaw. Mays staggered under them, but the heavy-training gloves had absorbed most of their force.

Tunney then relaxed and continued boxing in his usual easy fashion through the remainder of the second and third rounds with Mays and three more with Billy Vidabek, the other member of the sparring stable.

This flare-up, many thought, revealed Tunney's plan to achieve his

ROBERTSON ENTHUSIASTIC AS AMERICAN TRACK STARS SHOW SPEED IN INITIAL WORKOUTS

AMSTERDAM, July 22. (AP)—The American Olympic track-and-field team made their first foreign assaults on time and distance in workouts at the Olympic Stadium today.

While great crowds took advantage of the fine weather to line canal banks where the President Roosevelt's launches piled back and forth with their human cargoes, the athletes were hard at it at the stadium.

Lloyd Hahn, America's chief hope in middle distances, had a hard

DEATH ENDS NOTABLE CAREER IN MEDICINE
Dr. Henry G. Brainerd
Noted Nerve Specialist Dies at 76 Years of Age
Was Long Held Authority on Mental Disorders
Funeral Service Arranged for Tomorrow
Dr. Henry Green Brainerd, prominent neuropsychiatrist and recognized as one of the world's authorities on mental and nervous disorders, died at 7:30 a.m. yesterday at his home, 1661 Wilshire Boulevard, after an illness of five weeks.
Dr. Brainerd was 76 years of age and for more than forty years had been a resident of Los Angeles. He continued active in his profession where he gained State and national reputation, until his fatal illness. He was born in Londonderry, N. H., May 23, 1852.
LEAVES TWO SONS
He leaves two sons, Henry Howard and Fred Lindley, and a daughter, Miss Hannah Brainerd, who has made her home with the family for a number of years. His wife, Alma Loomis Brainerd of Manchester, Iowa, whom he married in 1879, died in 1922.
Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the First Congregational Church, 848 South Hope street, with burial at Rosehill Cemetery. Pallbearers had not been selected yesterday, but they will probably be chosen from among Dr. Brainerd's professional associates.
Significantly, in his obituary notice in his field of work, which began shortly after his graduation from Dartmouth with a bachelor of arts degree in 1874 and continued until a few weeks before his death, he was the honored guest on the occasion of his birthday two months ago when he was tendered a banquet at which several hundred of his fellow-medical men paid him and his work tribute.
STUDIED IN LONDON
Dr. Brainerd was a student in the medical department of the University of Iowa and gained his M.D. degree at Rush Medical College, Chicago, in 1878, which came with high honors. He then took postgraduate work in New York College and London Polytechnic.
Following his marriage he was named assistant superintendent of the Iowa Hospital for the Insane, where he served from 1878 until 1888, when he came to California. He was professor of medical and nervous diseases of the medical department of the University of Southern California, and dean of the faculty from 1889 to 1902. He organized the dental department in 1890 and was dean until 1899. During the years 1888 to 1893 he was superintendent of the Los Angeles General Hospital.
WROTE ON MEDICINE
He was chairman of the State commission named to locate and build the hospital for the insane at Norwalk, and a member of the board of managers. He was also a frequent contributor of papers to various medical publications.
Dr. Brainerd was president of the State Medical Society in 1922 and 1923, a former president of the Southern California Sanatorium for Nervous Diseases, a member of the American Medical Association, American Congress of Internal Medicine, American College of Physicians, Southern California Medical Society, Los Angeles Neurology and Psychiatric Society, and ex-president of the Los Angeles County Medical Society. He was a member of the California and University clubs.
APPROPRIATION FOR GAFFEY CUT ASKED
Councilman Golden has asked the City Council appropriate an $80,000 from general funds for the construction of a viaduct and bridge, as well as the expense of the cut, in connection with the proposed improvement of Gaaffeys street from the intersection of Cedar street to the Coast Highway. As a result of Golden's request, the Council ordered the City Engineer to delay preparation of the engineering plans for the improvement until the matter of financing the bridge, viaduct and cut is decided.
EUGENE SPIES WANTED
Relative of Eugene Raymond Spies of Chicago, who is thought to be residing in Los Angeles, started a search for him yesterday when physicians at the Northwestern Memorial Hospital in Chicago, predicted that his mother can live no more than three months following the operation. George W. Loach, brother-in-law of Spies, residing at 2317 Cullum avenue, Chicago, has asked The Times to aid in the search. Spies' mother, physicians said, continually asks for him.
DENTIST KILLED IN CRASH
Ten Persons Injured and Two Die in Automobile Accidents Over Week-End
Dr. L. E. Meldrum, 30 years of age, a dentist, residing at 320 South Marguerita avenue, Alhambra, was killed yesterday morning in an automobile accident on the Coast Highway as he and three others were touring to San Diego. He died on the way to the Murphy Memorial Hospital at Whittier.
Oscar Pelton, proprietor of a barber shop in Alhambra, who was driving the car, Mrs. R. W. Frankfort of 1801 Muscatel avenue, Rosemead, and another woman whose name was not determined, were seriously injured and are also at the hospital.
CAR SKIDS OFF ROAD
The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. as Pelton was driving between La Habra and Fullerton. At the intersection of Cedar street with the Coast Highway Pelton's car, as he attempted to pass two others, skidded off the road and crashed into a telegraph pole. Dr. Meldrum, who was in the rear seat with one of the women, had his head crushed. The others were thrown clear of the car.
Charles E. Fife, 32, 1151 West Eighty-eighth street, suffered a broken leg and abrasions over the entire body when a hit-and-run driver knocked him to the pavement. (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

Ten Persons Injured and Two Die in Automobile Accidents Over Week-End
Dr. L. E. Meldrum, 30 years of age, a dentist, residing at 320 South Marguerita avenue, Alhambra, was killed yesterday morning in an automobile accident on the Coast Highway as he and three others were touring to San Diego. He died on the way to the Murphy Memorial Hospital at Whittier.
Oscar Pelton, proprietor of a barber shop in Alhambra, who was driving the car, Mrs. R. W. Frankfort of 1801 Muscatel avenue, Rosemead, and another woman whose name was not determined, were seriously injured and are also at the hospital.
CAR SKIDS OFF ROAD
The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. as Pelton was driving between La Habra and Fullerton. At the intersection of Cedar street with the Coast Highway Pelton's car, as he attempted to pass two others, skidded off the road and crashed into a telegraph pole. Dr. Meldrum, who was in the rear seat with one of the women, had his head crushed. The others were thrown clear of the car.
Charles E. Fife, 32, 1151 West Eighty-eighth street, suffered a broken leg and abrasions over the entire body when a hit-and-run driver knocked him to the pavement. (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

CZECHO-SLOVAK BOOKS ARRIVE
President Masaryk Donates Library
Trojan University Gets Fine Present
Theaia Stenop, left, and Marie Cesay are among students who expect to benefit by new Slavic reading opportunities and they could hardly wait to get at box set Prof. Morkovin.
RECEIVED direct from President Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, a gift of about fifty books in different languages, including English, French, German, Italian and Bohemian, on the history, education, economic conditions and customs of Czechoslovakia, has just been added to the library of the University of Southern California, beginning the foundation of a special Slavic library.
More than thirty additional volumes dealing with Poland and Czechoslovakia have been donated by Dr. Boris Vladimirovich Morkovin, professor of comparative literature at the University of Southern California, a former student of President Masaryk in Czechoslovakia.
President Masaryk has also written to Prof. Morkovin, congratulating him on his part in the establishment of a department of Slavic studies.
ACCUSED REDS ARRESTED
Launching of Communist Drive Here Leads to Raids; Suspected Books Found in Possession
Eight persons described as Reds, one of them a woman, were arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Hynes and the police red detail when it became known that the Communist party had launched a secret membership campaign in Los Angeles.
Each of the suspects, when searched, was found to be in possession of several books of so-called solidarity certificates to be sold ostensibly for the relief of striking coal miners and their families. The prices stamped on the certificates ranged from 10 cents to $10.
In reality, he said, the money collected is to be used to foster and encourage the breaking of laws of the United States and for the spreading of Communist propaganda.
"There is no doubt," Hynes said, "that this drive is similar to that conducted by the Anti-Imperialist League, which we already have shown has been engaged in collecting funds for Sandino, to be used in killing United States Marines in Nicaragua. In fact, on the reverse side of the certificates it states: 'This solidarity certificate has helped to win the miners' strike, save the miners' union, encourage mass picketing and fight the injunctions.'"
The slips also urge the purchaser to "assist for organizing the union, for one national agreement and a national miners' strike," and "to help the breaking of laws of the United States and for the spreading of Communist propaganda."
The arrested were booked on charges of violating Sections 2 and 3 of City Ordinance No. 34985, which prohibits the soliciting of money for charitable purposes. They gave the following names: Aaron Grossburg, 34 years of age, 226 West Second street; Mrs. Mary Ostrow, 56, 222 N. Washington drive; Mrs. Parber, 43, of 3367 Raymond Boulevard; Joseph Robby, 37, of 1825 S. Western avenue; Edward Tamper, 40, of 824 West Tenth street; Aaron Feinberg, 41, of 529 North Cumming street; Mike Schenrock, 33, of 390 West 10th street; San Gabriel; Dave Pradkin, alias Stein, 814 Forest avenue.
PETITIONS RECEIVED
The City Council has received property owners' petitions asking for the paving of the following streets: Wiloughby avenue from Gower street to Highland avenue; Carlton Way from Pannar avenue to Walgrave avenue, and Glencoe street from Carlton Way to Vienna Way.

FIGUEROA EXTENSION ADVANCED
Condemnation Action for Opening and Widening of Thoroughfare Filed
Deputy City Attorney Keith has announced that the condemnation suit for the opening and widening of the North Figueroa extension from Second street to the Los Angeles River, and along Dayton avenue to Pasadena avenue, has been filed.
Persons whose land is to be taken for the widening now are being served with summons and complaints, he said.
The North Figueroa extension is considered by the Traffic Commission as important a project as is included in the major traffic plan. Its completion will relieve traffic congestion in the Plaza district and along North Broadway, and offer a new, fast route to Highland Park and northeast sections of the city.
According to plans prepared by the City Engineering Department, the right of way will be 100 feet wide for the entire distance of nearly five miles. Tunnels will be built through several of the Elysian Park hills, and a new viaduct is planned across the Los Angeles River.
The cost of acquiring the needed right of way will be comparatively small, as much of the land is city-owned property in Elysian Park. There is a city allocation of $946,068, set aside in the major traffic bond fund, which will help reduce the cost.
As there are but few streets which will intersect with the Figueroa extension, it is expected that motorists will be able to travel its entire length at a high average speed. A connection with Catalina street will give motorists an opportunity to reach the central traffic district by way of Broadway and North Hill street.

RUSSIANS ARRIVE TO TAKE UP RESIDENCE
Larissa Patrekeyeva
Tired of life in their native Russia, Mrs. L. Patrekeyeva and her daughter, Miss Larissa Patrekeyeva, have arrived in Los Angeles to make their home. They are staying with Mrs. Antonio Hayes, 5150 Oakland street, Mrs. Patrekeyeva's daughter, who has resided here four years.
The Patrekeyevas experienced the reign of terror in Russia and have just been successful in getting away from their country after many adventures, they said. Miss Patrekeyeva speaks English, French and German, and was employed by an American concern in Russia for several years as a secretary and translator. She hopes to find similar work here.
FOREST FIRE PRECAUTION REDOUBLED
Stricter Enforcement of Rules Concerning Visitors Ordered Into Effect
With a record number of travelers visiting the national forests, a much stricter guard is being maintained, it was stated yesterday by George Cecil, supervisor of Angeles National Forest. The restrictions apply largely to campers and are made to protect the forests from fires, which already this year have caused great damage to watersheds.
Emphasis has been placed on the regulations regarding smoking in the forests, or in any restricted areas in the county outside of the forests. Numerous fines of not less than $10 each have been imposed for this violation, and it was announced by Justice Morton at Pasadena that hereafter the fine will be larger.
A few "don'ts" were given by Mr. Cecil for campers and automobilists. They are:
Don't smoke in a car in a national forest, nor in restricted areas in the county, even in a closed car.
Don't leave a camp fire burning under any circumstances.
Don't throw away a lighted match, cigarette stub or cigar stub in any dry area.
It also is pointed out that all campers who enter national forests must carry with them a shovel and an ax. The shovel must be thirty-two inches long, over all, and have an eight-inch blade. The ax must be twenty-six inches long, over all, and have a two-pound head. This regulation does not apply to auto parties, not bent on camping, or to camping parties passing through the reserve.
'Unloaded' Rifle Sends Bullet in Brain of Child
Ines Acosta, 7 years of age, last night was in a critical condition at the County Hospital with fragments of a bullet in her brain because of the accidental firing of an apparently unloaded .22-caliber automatic rifle by her 4-year-old brother, Daniel. The accident occurred Saturday evening at the Acosta home, 14748 San Fernando Road.
According to police reports, Daniel's father had been rabbit hunting. As a precaution he had removed the magazine from the gun, but evidently left a bullet in the firing chamber.
Dr. Claud F. Peters attended the child.

RUINS MOCK NEW CITY HALL
Half-Demolished Structures Arrogantly Flaunt Dishabille Against High-Toned Rival
City officials are looking for a Solomon who will be so wise that he can show a way to remove the ruins across from the City Hall on the west side of Spring street near First street.
Visitors brought to look at the twenty-eight-story $5,000,000 municipal palace of marble and terra cotta catch sight of the wide-open fronts of the half-demolished buildings on Spring street and cry "What's that?" They stand fascinated looking at the tumble-down bricks where the fronts have been ripped off the old two-story business buildings. They wonder if these are the ruins of some political upheaval, an earthquake or historic debris left by Commodore Stockton when he shelled the city and wrested it from its inhabitants and raised the American flag.
OFFICIALS STUMPED
The Mayor, City Attorney, City Council, Chief of Police, building superintendent—all would like to see the ruins torn away but so far have found no ordinance, ukase or superstition by which the job can be done.
The owners of one of the half-demolished buildings are the City of Los Angeles. (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

SOME STARS LIE OUT IN THE SUN AND NOW EACH ACTS "WELL DONE"
A check yesterday at several Hollywood studios revealed that two actresses were burned as serious as they were tanned by the rays of the sun. They are Lilian Tashman and Ruth Chatterton.
Tashman, wife of Edmund Lowe, was bedridden for a week as was Miss Chatterton. The former was burned on the back where Miss Chatterton suffered burns on the face.
Richard Dix wanted to get himself all prepared to make an Indian picture as he has been in the sun in brown his skin at his beach home in the Malibu. He got burned instead of getting a tan as he had wanted. Then when he went back to the studio the company decided not to make the Indian picture but instead on in which he must wear evening dress.
Others at the same studio who found beach pleasure a bit painful include Gary Cooper, Evelyn Brent and Mrs. Josef von Sternberg, wife of the director. Esther Rialson came back from her vacation with a "Honolulu tan".
Victims at other studios include Marceline Day, Norma Shearer, Anita Page, Joan Crawford, Josephine Dunn, John Gilbert and Johnny Mack Brown. There are plenty others, too.

Body of Woman Found in Canal Following Break With Fiance

DEATH SEQUEL TO LOVERS' ROW

Police Question Companion About Tragedy

She Fled From Auto After Quarrel, He States

Tells of All-Night Search in Streets for Her

LONG BEACH, July 22.—Anastasia Peterson, handsome woman of 32, on Saturday night made her choice between a "sugar daddy" who could give her the luxuries dear to a woman's heart; the loss of the man she loved; and death.

She chose the latter, and this morning her body was found floating in a canal at Alamitos Bay, near here, by G. L. Crandall of 5725 Bay Front when he stepped out on his porch to bring in the Sunday paper.

TELLS HER HE IS BROKE
In the meantime the man she loved, but who had told her that he was broke and could not see her any more, spent a harrowing night searching for the woman, who had disappeared from the car in which they had been holding what turned out to be a farwell conversation.

He is Preston Fursel of 577 North Wilson avenue, Pasadena. The pair had been keeping company for some time, Mrs. Peterson having been separated from her husband. On Saturday night they drove out to the Naples district, where he, according to police, told her that it was better that they "call it off" as he is in straitened circumstances and that he could not come to see her again. She remonstrated when he advised her to seek another man better able to entertain her.

FURSEL QUESTIONED
At 7:45 Sunday morning Crandall, as he picked up his morning paper, saw an object floating in the bay near his home. He investigated and saw that it was a woman's body. He and neighbors rowed out and brought it to shore, then notified the police.

Sergeant of Detectives Gott of Long Beach took Fursel into custody yesterday and questioned him for two hours. He was then released. Mrs. Peterson, police were informed, had been in ill health for some weeks.

The body is at the Peck & Son mortuary, where an inquest will be held tomorrow or Tuesday.

CHIROPRACTORS LAY CONVENTION PLANS
More than 400 speakers yesterday were assigned subjects for the fifth annual convention of the National Progressive Chiropractors' Association, August 6 to 12, at the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic, 918 Venice Boulevard. Dr. Charles H. Wood, general chairman, stated 3000 delegates from all parts of the country will attend.

DEFIANT RUINS MOCK CITY HALL

buildings—the Crouch estate—applied for a permit to put in a fine front and to repair and remodel what is left of its building, but even this could not be done. The city ordinances prohibit remodeling buildings of this old type in the downtown fire district, the city building department officials said, with regret.

The suggestion was made that possibly the Council could order the owners to tear down what is left of the building, but no official will say that this can be done although they call the buildings an eyesore, standing as they do at the front door of the new City Hall, but they are hardly a menace to life and limb or navigation or a fire hazard.

OWNERS INDIFFERENT
The building owners apparently have no desire to demolish the ruined buildings and build new ones only to have them, condemned in a year or two for Civic Center purposes. The Civic Center plan adopted by the city and county provides for this area from Spring to Broadway and from First to Court street as a public building site, possibly for the new State building. The county government owns one of the three lots with a half building on it, but the county could not improve the property except for public purposes and would not do this and plant something of little value in the middle of the large building site.

SOURCE OF TROUBLE
The present unusual situation was caused by the condemnation proceedings for the straightening and widening of Spring street. The city condemned the land, needed, a ninety-foot front on Spring street.

the court awarded $120,000 damages, the city paid and out of the front of the buildings for street purposes. While these proceedings were running, the width of the new Spring street was changed to 100 feet and this left the end of Spring street nearest First street at a width of only ninety feet, with insufficient width for sidewalks.

City Attorney Stephens considered starting condemnation proceedings to chop ten feet more off the property including another whack off the front of three already chopped-down buildings. This plan has been discarded as the courts would award at least $80,000 to the owners for the ten feet and then in a year or two the remainder of the lots will be condemned for Civic Center purposes, and more money paid with no credit for the $120,000, which would have already been paid.

Painter Tries to Slay Self
Penning a note in which he said he found life useless "because his wife kept him broke," Christopher Krupp, 50 years of age, a painter, yesterday attempted to end his life by firing a bullet into his head, according to police.

The stricken man was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where, it was stated, he has little chance for recovery. Krupp made the attempt in his apartment at 1402 West Twentieth street, a roomer, hearing the shot, notified police.

Besides the note to his wife, Mrs. Marie Krupp, which he blamed her for keeping him "broke," Krupp left a second note directing that his estate be given to Dyesen Krupp, a son by a former marriage now residing in Phoenix, Ariz. According to police, Krupp and his present wife have been married only eight months.

EXPOSITION OPENING SET FOR TONIGHT

Knights of Columbus All Ready for Six-Day Event on Loyola Campus

Spectacular circus specialties and educational slide lights on local industries will vie for the attention of the thousands expected from all over the Southland to the opening of the Knights of Columbus annual exposition and frolic on the campus of Loyola College tonight. Charles J. O'Hara is general chairman of the six-day event.

Hundred of Southland industries will have exhibits. Eleven contestants are seeking the title of "Miss Columbia," a title which will send one lucky one for a two-months' trip to Australia.

Authorized by Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, Bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego, the affair is backed by the Knights of Columbus in an effort to raise funds to widen the activities of their employment bureau here.

The program for the opening night will include an overture by the West Coast Orchestra, the Yoakida, Japanese acrobatic act from the Orpheum circuit; the Updegraves in a novelty roping act; The Dorado Trio, Silver Jim Reel, and the Red Cross, Girl Scouts, California Hut, Catholic Welfare and Green Cross.

Each night a different program will be staged by David O. Rice. Among the organizations that have been donated booths for the pageant are the Red Cross, Girl Scouts, California Hut, Catholic Welfare and Green Cross.

The affair will close Saturday night when the "Miss Columbia" popularity contest will be decided. Following are the candidates in the contest: Lucille Bessolo, 5126 Glenwood Drive, Eagle Rock; Marie Luciano, 728 Cole avenue; Flora Marie Baskin, 811 East One Hundred and fourteenth street; Alice Gibbons, Loyola College; Kathleen O'Connor, 2010 West Vernos avenue; Peggy McGuire, 1240 West Wilson street, Glendale; Katherine Rink, 714 Herbert street; Anna Mae Ducey, 1420 West Fifth street; Marion Moore, 319 Forty-fifth street; Elizabeth Nash, 514 Fifth street, Venice.

Thursday evening members of the City Club will be guests at the Pilgrimage Play. A community sing will feature the luncheon on Friday.

Bond Election to be Decided

The City Council this morning will hear protests, if any, to the calling of a special election for August 14 in that part of the San Fernando Valley designated as Municipal Improvement District No. 59. The election is to vote on the question of issuing district bonds for the purchase of land for public park purposes, known as the Cuyabon Park project.

DOCTOR DIES IN AUTO CRASH

ment at Eighty-fourth street and Vermont avenue as Fife stepped from the curb.

DRIVER BURNED IN CRASH
Bud Ellinger, 1807 1/2 Glendale Road, in a serious condition at the Georgia-street Hospital suffering from burns about the body and face, a broken collar bone and possible internal injuries received when the car in which he was riding collided with a machine driven by J. J. Hayes, 3340 Isabella Drive, at Third street and Maryland avenue early yesterday.

Haynes and a companion, Miss Barbara Dyon, 3814 St. Andrews Place, suffered minor injuries. According to police, when the two cars collided, the car in which Ellinger was a passenger turned over and caught fire, pinning Ellinger beneath the wreck. The driver of the car left the scene of the accident and police are searching for him.

CAR OUT OF CONTROL
Mary L. Mercer, 15, of 2950 West Avenue Thirty-five, faces a charge of reckless driving, while Mrs. Maude Beatty, 44, of 5135 Shattford Road, Highland Park, is in the Glendale Sanatorium, seriously injured, as the result of an unmanageable car yesterday. Mrs. Mercer was taking lessons in driving and the machine got away from her, ran over the curb and pinned Mrs. Beatty, a pedestrian, to a telegraph pole. The injured woman suffered a broken left arm and leg, a possible skull fracture and internal injuries, according to the police reports.

When the auto of F. E. Michel, 2909 South Raymond avenue, collided with the car of C. C. Prescott, 1412 West Sixty-first street, at Eleventh avenue and Cinnabar street, yesterday, George Oddy, 32, to grandchildren, with the exception of 2909 South Raymond avenue, was one of minor bequests to charities.

Internally injured and bruised and Mrs. Inez Hobbs, 35, of the same address, received a possible skull fracture. Police are investigating the accident. The injured were treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

Russell Jones, 23, residing at 249 East Washington street, Pasadena, died yesterday afternoon at the Pasadena Hospital from the results of an accident last Friday in Highland Park in which his motorcycle collided with an automobile. He received a basal fracture of the skull.

Martin Burial Rites Arranged

Funeral services will be conducted for Edward Norman Martin, 23 years of age, at the Chapel of the Advent, 4967 West Adams, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Death occurred last Friday evening at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Bishop W. P. Stevens of the Episcopal diocese will officiate at the funeral services. Six of his former schoolmates will act as pallbearers. He leaves his mother, Mrs. Martin Crawford, and stepfather, Rev. M. K. Crawford, rector of the Chapel of the Advent. Interment will be at Inglewood Cemetery.

MRS. DIRKS'S WILL FILED
An estate worth $50,000 was left by Mrs. Henrietta Dirks, who died the 12th inst., according to her will, which had been filed for probate. Attorney Earle M. Daniels is named executor. The estate is bequeathed to her children, with the exception of 2909 South Raymond avenue, was one of minor bequests to charities.

MADE IN CALIFORNIA

We are beyond doubt in this first half of the twentieth century entering an era of change, reconstruction, and advance, material, mental and spiritual, such as humanity has never before experienced. It is also equally undeniable that all nations look to the United States as the leader in this new and startling order of things. In the spirit of inquiry we may, therefore, search further for signs and examples of how this leadership has developed and in what section of this extensive commonwealth it is most conspicuously apparent.

Such a spirit of inquiry discloses remarkable statistics on the part of California in taking in molding the future of our country and through it that of the world in general. Physical prowess may in the scale of progress be rated lower than intellectual, yet the close connection between the two is one no student of the humanities has failed to observe.

Greece, when she led the way in culture, philosophy and the arts, was also famed for the physical strength of her young men and the beauty of her maidens. Rome, when she was the engineer and law-maker for civilized man, also was the breeder of the best brawn of the world. The Dutch, the Portuguese and the British were the prime discoverers of new lands, continents and oceans, their pioneers were men of stamina and physical endurance beyond that of their contemporary nations.

In the same way the physical attainments of present California are the result of athletic endeavor are bred signs of all races that at one time decided the course of world events. And these athletic achievements have been so pronounced in so many different directions that they have turned all eyes to this land of growth and sunshine whence so many young athletes have gone forth to compete for national honors.

Two conclusions are easily drawn from the Olympic track and field trials held at Cambridge, Mass., that the United States is strong enough to outpace its opponents and that the majority of the best performers hail from California. In the Junior Olympic Games all six of the representatives of Southern California were among the leaders and took first place in both divisions. Eighteen-year-old Frank Wyckoff of Glendale defeated all comers in the 100-meter dash. Charles Borah, also from California, ran first in the 200-meter final. Lee Barnes in the pole vault, Clarence Houser in the discus throw and Levi Casey in the hop, step and jump, other Californians, ruled the field. The University of California won the national rowing championship, while Helen Wills is the world's amateur tennis champion.

These are but a few of the high spots among the athletic triumphs of Young California. To maintain its position parallel with the golden ages of Greece, Rome and Elizabethan England we should show similar eminence in the intellectual field. To name all the Californians who are leaving their marks on the thought and temper of the age would fill the columns of a lengthy "Who's Who." But one or two immediately suggest themselves.

First and foremost stands Herbert Hoover, executive and humanitarian, who saved 15,000,000 people from disease and starvation during the World War and is winning his way to the Presidency of the United States. Secretary of the Navy Wilbur is another national figure of western hue. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, peace and arbitration champion, shares with Dr. Robert A. Millikan, a scholar and scientific honors centered in California.

But it is in team work and a general devotion to culture that the intellectual products of a commonwealth are more surely estimated. The national oratorical contests, instituted in World War have attained world-wide recognition and young California orators have won four out of the six contests already held. The growth of colleges and temples of learning slowly encircling Los Angeles, the Huntington Library, the Mount Wilson solar observatory, the fact that this State has the largest number of enrolled university students in America, all demonstrate the intellectual plane on which California may base its coming world influence.

Analysts of the causes of world progress may not be content to rest on the ascertained statistics, but may wish to dig beneath the surface to find material roots for each manifestation of external growth. Thus they may link the intellectual vigor of Greece with her vine and olive, of Rome with her superior cattle bred on the plains of Lombardy, of Elizabethan England with the cream of Devonshire and wool from the Sussex wolds.

By this same token California can dig successfully in her fertile soil and exhibit similar material roots for her physical and intellectual products. For the agricultural products of Los Angeles county lead in value any other county in the United States. And who will decide how much of the brain and muscle of Young California may be traced to the juices of her oranges, the vitamins in her spinach and celery, how much of the bloom of her beautiful maidens has been absorbed from the pulp of her peaches, or the iron in the blood of her Athletes originated from beef and mutton fed on her rich delta pastures?

If soil and climate are to be the final sources from which to extract the fitness of a race to predominate in the physical and intellectual world, California can match her natural resources with those of all historical lands whose races at various periods have been the leaders in world change and progress.

LOOKING BACKWARD
 Delivers and archeologists in Anatolia have uncovered some thirty skeletons of defunct Hittites. They didn't have to send for the coroner, either, as these hapless wights had been dead for more than 4000 years. The Hittites were quite some people, even in the days before the first explosives. It is a pity that these Hittites didn't leave some literature. It might have made a hit for movie scenarios nowadays.

COME ACROSS
 After it was all over King George gave a cross to the Australian flyers. They had already got across.

 THE LEESIDE
 BY Lee Shippey

THE Leeside will award a beach umbrella to anyone who will send in a better clipping or story from his own home-town paper than the following from the Hemet Times.

"A Hemet man has lost faith in the sincerity of those who talk of equal rights. Last Sunday, faced by the sad dilemma of either being late to church or going unshaved, he thought of equal rights and hustled along, taking his shaving kit in his pocket. Safe in a pew there, he waited for a pacemaker. Soon a young woman came in and sat in the same pew. After a few minutes of casual exercise, she did what he expected—opened her vanity case, took out a tube and chamomile and proceeded to doll up her face. When she began work on her eyebrows, the man felt that he had waited long enough, and he packed his shaving kit in his pocket. He was waiting for a pacemaker. GUARD STORY IS REFUTED

Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark spent yesterday and last night interviewing witnesses to the fight last month at the Ship Cafe when Albert Marco, underworld boss, is asserted to have shot Dominick Contorno and Harry Judson. Clark said he is proceeding on the theory that the defense of Marco, now being put on before Superior Judge Doran, is manufactured, and he believes he has enough evidence to break down the contention that Joe Moore, chauffeur and bodyguard for Marco, did the shooting.

"I shall place on the stand rebuttal witnesses who know the conditions under which the attack took place and can refute the testimony that Moore thrust his arm under the right arm of Marco," said Clark. "I can produce a witness who grappled with Marco when Marco pulled the gun, and who forced the gun down in Marco's hand."

Attorney Tom White, representing Marco, brought out Joe Moore on Saturday before newspaper reporters, with the statement that Moore and Marco will take the stand and testify that Moore did the shooting when he feared the life of his employer was threatened. The trial will be resumed this morning.

Lesson-Sermon yesterday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The lesson-sermon included citations from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

That the doctrines of Karl Marx and a materialistic concept of the world is making difficult the spread of the religion of Jesus in Japan is the statement recently made by Prof. Yakoto of Kobe, to Prof. Carl S. Knopf of the University of Southern California who used the statement as a basis for a sermon preached yesterday at Messiah Congregational Church. Dr. Knopf said in part:

"In the famous parable of Jesus, five foolish women went to a wedding celebration unprepared to re- fill their lamps. They were unwary when the supreme moment came and missed a golden opportunity for happiness. The human race has been like that. It has been unwary to meet the issues. War, selfishness, dishonesty and materialism have been too often accepted as inevitable, or necessary, and on such false premises has civilization been repeatedly wrecked. The religion of Jesus is retarded by these relics of the stone ages."

Dr. Bruce Brown of South Park Christian Church preached yesterday on "Religion and Learning." He said in part:

"While it is true that intelligence is the basis of all progress it is also true that knowledge without moral enthusiasm makes man worse and more dangerous than a beast. That is the explanation of the fact that civilization and Christianity never have been and never can be separated. Education without the guiding hand and restraining ideas of religion has ever ventured too near the precipice. Intellectual

Two Scheduled to Appear Today in Bankrupt Case

In a case charging the concealment of $25,000 in assets in a bankruptcy matter and the subsequent disappearance of Ray Taylor, his wife, Mrs. Ora Taylor, and Clyde Marshall are scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Sheppard on a charge of conspiracy to conceal a defendant.

Taylor was head of the Great Western Cleaning Works and is said to have concealed $25,000 of the assets of the company, which went into bankruptcy. It was stated that Taylor failed to report to the court and later was arrested in San Antonio, Tex., where he gave bond to appear on June 25.

After his asserted failure to appear he is said to have been traced to Nogales, Ariz., and the arrest of his wife and Marshall for concealing him followed. Taylor escaped, it was stated.

Mrs. Taylor and Marshall are to appear for arraignment and plea today on the conspiracy charge.

MAIL CARRIER'S CASE UP IN COURT TODAY

Roy Augustus Blodgett, formerly a mail carrier at the Glendale post-office, is to appear today before United States District Judge Sheppard for arraignment and plea on a charge of having sent an objectionable letter through the mails to a young girl on his mail route. It was stated by postoffice inspectors that Blodgett had bothered girls on his mail route and had carried with him and attempted to sell books and pictures of a questionable nature.

Once a month

PAN-AM MOTOR CLEANING MACHINE

The motorist who has his motor washed out once a month with the Pan-Am Motor Cleaning Machine is assuring himself freedom from unnecessary motor trouble and costly repair bills. He is getting full value out of the money he spends for oil—and he will get far more wear out of his car!

This is due to the fact that the Pan-Am Motor Cleaning Machine loosens and removes carbon from under piston heads and washes out every bit of gritty dirt and minute metal filings from the motor, oil lines and crank case—an accumulation that otherwise circulates indefinitely, constantly wearing down moving parts, unless washed out with this machine—(the most thorough "flushing" can't get more than 32% of this). No "cutting" agent is used with the Pan-Am Motor Cleaning Machine! The Pan-Am Cleaning Lubricant is 100% lubricating oil.

VACATIONISTS! Have your motor washed out before starting on your trip and have power to spare! This service is free!

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Two reports that frequently are being sent to America are without foundation; one is that there is a possibility of the former Kaiser of Germany and the other is that the recent strength of the Left in the elections means that the nation is going to "turn red." On those points John Palmer Gavit, formerly managing editor of the New York Evening Post, who with Mrs. Gavit is staying at the Hotel Kaiser in Berlin was emphatic. Mr. Gavit is passing the summer in Germany collecting material and arranging a series of articles for a special number of the "Survey" to appear in November and to give a complete picture of the first ten years of the German republic.

Mr. Gavit says that he has found no thought of war on the part of Germany but admits that Germans are united in their intense irritation over the "Polish" corridor.

ENGINEERS ON TOUR

Three American engineers, stopping at the Hotel Kaiser, in Berlin, are headed toward Riga and Russia. "Just looking around," says one of them, "and if we see anything pointing toward easier trade dealings, we may say something about it when we get home." The three are August Schoen of Detroit, J. A. Massel of New York and F. Edward O'Neill of New York.

Sidney L. Wilson and Leon M. George, respectively president and vice-president of the American Writing Paper Company, have left the Hotel Kaiser after a brief stay, following their attendance at the paper men's convention at Heidelberg.

Dr. T. F. Letts, a member of the faculty of the University of Maryland Medical School, Baltimore, and Mrs. Letts, who are making a two-month tour of Europe, are staying at the Hotel Kaiser.

John Wiley of Indiana, secretary of the United States Embassy in Berlin, gave a luncheon last week for the new United States Military Attaché, Col. Carpenter and Mrs. Carpenter.

MUSICAL TEA

Mrs. W. Alton Derrick has hosted a musical tea given in honor of Miss Nancy Kennedy at Atlanta, Ga., at her home in Berlin last week. Mrs. Derrick, Schlesinger-Reynolds of Iowa and California, entertained the guests with arias and songs.

Miss Antonia Luisa Brice, the only girl conductor accepted at the State Hochschule fur Musik in Berlin, has been invited by Siegfried Wagner to go to Bayreuth to coach and assist at rehearsals. Miss Brice has been in California, from the university of which she graduated and obtained a scholarship. She is a protégée of Stanislaw Stojowski, Polish pianist, composer and teacher, now in New York.

The White Star liner Majestic reached Cherbourg last week after a fine crossing from New York. Among those disembarking was Travis Banton, chief costume designer of the Paramount studios in Hollywood.

Visiting France
Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Rider of Hollywood have finished their tour at Montecatini, Italy, and are at St. Jean-de-Luz, France.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter of Pasadena are at the Hotel Plaza-Athena in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Campbell of Pasadena, who crossed to Europe on the liner Aquitania on its last trip, have arrived in Paris and are stopping at the Hotel Bristol. They are accompanied by Walter B. Campbell and Miss Roda Campbell will return to the United States via Canada, in about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haude of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Jennings of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. F. Chase of San Diego and C. Ruppberg of Hollywood are among the Southern Californians

SOUND AUCTION BRIDGE

by Wilbur C. Whitehead
The World's Greatest Authority

Each day in this column a complete hand is presented by Mr. Whitehead. These hands may be played with cards for one, three or four players. Fill out a sheet of your own and compare your solution with Mr. Whitehead's. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's explanation, and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your bidding and play with that of your friends—this comparison may be disappointing.

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "N.T." for No Trumps, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, including self-addressed stamped envelope.

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cooking in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

- Breakfast: Sliced Peaches, Snow Omelet, Toast, Milk, Jelly, Coffee.
- Luncheon: Halibut in Cucumber Boats, Mashed Potatoes, Tomato and Mushroom Salad, Blackberry Pudding, Buttermilk.
- Dinner: Du Barry Soup, Young Onions, Round Steak and Sweet Potato, Baked String Beans, Cream Sauce, Spinach Salad, Peach Darioles, Iced Coffee.
- Snow Omelet: Beat the yolks of four eggs, add four tablespoonfuls of water, season with salt and pepper; beat the whites of the eggs until dry and then fold in the yolks. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, when it begins to bubble, pour in the omelet and spread it evenly over the pan. Sprinkle with browned underneath, sprinkle over the surface one tablespoonful of grated cheese, one tablespoonful of finely chopped cooked ham, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Place in the oven and allow a crust to form on the top. Turn out on a hot platter, fold over and serve at once.
- Peach Darioles: Puree and divide into halves; put perfect peaches to make one quart, add half a cupful of sugar and half a cupful of water and cook until the peaches are tender. Reserve six of the halves unbroken and rub the remainder through a sieve. Reheat the pulp and when boiling add two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, that has been moistened with a little cold water. Cook in a double boiler about ten minutes, remove from the fire, add a tablespoonful of lemon juice, a few drops of vanilla and if not sweet enough, add a little more sugar. Place a half of a peach in the bottom of each. Fill about two-thirds full with the mixture, place in a pan of water without suffering intestinal irritation as a result. Such a normal acidity should be kept by all people at all times. If this were done there would be little danger of catching an outside infection, whether of a toxic or bacterial nature.

WALRUSES PROTECTED

Walrus and sea lions that are protected on Alaska's shores are to be protected from slaying for commercial purposes for more years. Killing for needed food or clothing by natives, miners and explorers will be permitted, or in the case of sea lions to protect salmon runs, but in order to preserve the animals killing for shipping or selling is prohibited.

Lois and Roger Entertain at Dinner By Florence La Gash

Roger was still a new enough husband to wonder to his wife's voice frequently during the day. He called her on almost any pretext. But this time he had a real reason. His request made Lois's heart go pit a pat. A man and his wife and a married couple of their acquaintance were in town. They wanted to see the newly weds. Roger hoped that Lois could see her way clear to invite them to dinner. She responded nobly. "Why yes, I'll do it Roger. I'm scared to pieces, but anyway you can't expect a new wife to be a perfect hostess. I'm always proud to show you off. Will you take a chance on my cooking? What answer do you suppose Roger made?"

They were much doubt if any kindergarten (except a private one) would accept so young a child. A nursery school would be excellent in any circumstances in which it would be advisable to put a child in a jumper for a baby? I have heard much discussion, pro and con, on this and would like your opinion."

Answer: "My answer is very decidedly 'con.' I can't imagine any circumstances in which it would be advisable to put a child in a jumper for a baby? I have heard much discussion, pro and con, on this and would like your opinion."

POISON OAK AND IVY

In hiking through the mountains you may observe a pretty little plant, which sometimes assumes very beautiful autumnal colors leaning vine-like upon stone walls or trees. Many people are ignorant of the identity of this plant, which is known by various names, such as poison oak, sumac, poison ivy. The leaves are usually a bright green and appear in groups of three. You may distinguish it from all other plants because the stem of the middle leaf is always longer than the stems of the other two leaves.

The plants are a clear, transparent poisonous oil which is insoluble in water, and their leaves and bark are covered with it. If one of these plants is disturbed this oil is discharged into the air and a breeze may become impregnated with its poison. The sensitive person is sometimes poisoned even by being in the vicinity of a clump of these plants.

This poison causes a painful inflammation of the skin and in severe cases may even be carried internally to all parts of the body with sometimes very dangerous consequences, and has been known to result in death.

It is apparent that some people are more subject than others to these poisons. Just as some are more easily irritated by the pollen of flowers or dust from hay, and consequently develop attacks of hay fever. Those who have sensitive mucous membranes or a skin which cannot resist the oak or ivy poisoning are in every case subject to the effects of the poison.

If this is corrected there will be less susceptibility to either hay fever or vine poisoning. Many people have such good book alkalinity that they can chew and swallow the leaves of poison oak without suffering intestinal irritation as a result. Such a normal alkalinity should be kept by all people at all times. If this were done there would be little danger of catching an outside infection, whether of a toxic or bacterial nature.

If you are susceptible to this trouble, you should keep this article in a scrap book for future reference. Those who wish to alkaline their blood to overcome this tendency should send a large self-addressed, stamped, envelope and ask for my article called "A Cleansing Diet."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Question: J. F. asks: Is erysipelas a blood or a skin disease? What is the cause and cure of this disease? Answer: I consider the true cause of erysipelas to be an acidosis produced through the use of wrong food. It is true there is a particular bacterium associated with this disease, but this micro-organism cannot live in a body free from acidosis. Please write for further much as before you do.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

LINDSAY LIKE LAND OF UNIQUE CONTRADICTIONS

So Youthful and Yet So Affluent;
So Small and Yet So Great;
So Pretty; So Strong

BY FRED ROGUE
LINDSAY, July 22.—Lindsay is the result of a happy scientific experiment. Twenty years ago it wasn't here. Now it ships more oranges annually than any other shipping point in California.

Lindsay is the center of the isothermal belt of Tulare county. The word "isothermal" is of modern invention, although it is composed of two Greek words, "iso" is a prefix meaning equal. "Thermal" is Greek for temperature. So Lindsay is the center of the land of equal temperature.

The whole district is a paradox—"an opinion contrary to all opinions." Lindsay is 200 miles north of the citrus belt of Southern California, and the district has never known a frost. It lies on the slopes of Mt. Whitney, the highest mountain in the United States, and yet Lindsay is only 384 feet above sea level. There is a population of about 3500, and its immediate hinterland has a population of 8000. Lindsay has never been on the first page of a metropolitan newspaper.

COMMUNITY UNIQUE
Lindsay has never known a boom; but never known a disaster, has never had a riot nor a feud; none of its residents has ever been notoriously wicked. Lindsay is a community that has observed the Ten Commandments.

Here is a community with ambition. Here they become wealthy through the creation of wealth, not through chicanery or plunder. Lindsay is a modern Arcadia built through intelligence and industry. The isothermal belt, of which Lindsay is the center, is one of the marvels of California. It lies on the eastern rim of the San Joaquin Valley, almost hidden away like the foothills of the High Sierras. One rides along the Golden State Highway from Bakersfield to Fresno without suspecting its existence; yet Lindsay is only ten miles from the highway at Tulare.

The isothermal belt extends for about fifty miles through the foothills from Terra Bella, south of Porterville, through Shamrock, Lindsay, Orangeburg, Exeter, Lennox, Cove, Ivanhoe, Woodlake, and Dinuba to Orange Cove near the southern border of Fresno county. It is seldom more than five miles in width and at places it narrows down or totally disappears.

LAND OF STRANGE WAITS
There is something uncanny about it. The frost creeps in where the land seems to be wholly sheltered, and erases spots that are low and exposed. Land that was passed over for the first twenty years has proved to be the best. The climate is peculiarly adapted for growing citrus fruits and grape vines for this purpose.

One learns enough here to discover that citrus fruit culture is a fine art. The first lesson is that an orange grove is as temperamental as a woman, therefore to succeed one must know how to please. The soil must be right. The climate must be right. The grower must be right. Small fortunes have been lost here through choosing the wrong location, the wrong trees, or inexperienced in orange culture.

Citrus fruit growing is like cooking. Without apprenticeship there is no success.

TREMENDOUS SHIPMENT
How fortunate the lucky are is illustrated by the fact that 3425 cars of oranges alone were shipped from Lindsay in 1934, and netted to the local growers more than $4,500,000. Lindsay is the shipping point for about 15,000 cars. About 1500 cars of Valencia were shipped in April and May, and more than 2000 cars of Navel in November and December.

Lindsay has eighteen industrial plants with a capital investment of $1,250,000 and an annual output of $7,000,000. It claims to be the largest fruit-packing plant in the world.

In this city, with a population of less than 4000, the bank deposits for May last year were $2,580,732; about $200,000 more than the assessed valuation of the city.

Lindsay knows the worth of education. The value of its school property is nearly one-fourth the assessed valuation of the city.

Citrus fruit is not all they grow in and around Lindsay. About one-third its population is attending the public schools and students from Lindsay are attending half a dozen California colleges.

Lindsay's building permits last year totaled $54,297.

TOWN WITHOUT HISTORY
Lindsay was not even incorporated as a town twenty years ago, as it is without tradition, without history. It has not yet passed into the second generation.

It lives almost wholly on the product of the soil of its immediate territory, and yet, on a per capita valuation, it is one of the richest cities in the world.

Moreover, its prosperity is not transitory. In the last ten years orange juice has become a national beverage, and has almost doubled the demand for oranges. Dietitians recommend it, and the people like it.

As a drink it is at once a pleasure and a profit. According to R. I. Cleaman, secretary of the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce, "one-half the oranges received in one of the principal eastern receiving points last year went into the orange drink trade."

Lindsay and its adjacent district form a community of beautiful homes. They have all the modern improvements of the big cities, also the repose and security of the country village of the last century. It is 200 miles from Los Angeles; but, due to its new airplane delivery, The Times is on numerous occasions fast tables. The last edition of the San Francisco newspaper do not arrive until late in the afternoon.

Nearly every home has its radio, which keeps the city up to the minute with the news of the world outside. In these new California

HIS PROBLEM IS TO
HOUSE 1500 PLANES

Cliff Henderson

INGLEWOOD, July 22.—Purchasing hangars for airplanes rather than garages for automobiles is the problem which confronts Cliff Henderson in making preparations to entertain delegates to the various aeronautical conventions scheduled for Los Angeles during the National Air Races and Aeronautical Exposition at Mines Field, just west of here, September 4 to 16, inclusive.

With Los Angeles, a great convention center, the problem here is to provide for the thousands of visitors to meetings here. This time, however, it is hangars that must be provided for the hundreds of planes which will bring delegates by air from every section of the United States, Mexico and Canada. Active participation of more than 1500 planes is expected.

This includes actual contesting ships, and noncontesting planes which will bring the delegates. Frank Parent, president of the Centennial Valley Improvement Association, is working with Cliff Henderson, managing director of the exposition, to provide for the delegates.

Among the aeronautical conventions which will be held during the nine-day meet, are the national meetings of the National Aeronautical Association, the Professional Pilots Association, Mail Pilots Association, and the Airport Managers Association. The latter will be the initial gathering of the newly formed body of airport executives, and it is expected many important problems will come up for discussion, among them, the necessity for standardization of airport lighting and marking.

Newport Beach
Exchange Club
to Fete Guests

NEWPORT BEACH, July 22.—The Newport Beach Exchange Club is making extensive preparations to entertain the members of eight other clubs at a big district outing and dinner here next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Word has been received from Santa Ana, Long Beach, East Long Beach, Wilmington, Huntington Park, Los Angeles, South Gate and Anaheim that all will be represented by large delegations, and an attendance of more than 300 is indicated.

Visiting exchanges are being invited to come in the afternoon, when a short program of aquatic sports will be staged in the bay, with prizes offered by the local Exchange Club, the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and others.

After the dinner, which will be at 6 p. m., all will be guests of the local Exchange Club, the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and others.

Just as other municipalities have their municipal golf links, tennis courts and swimming pools, Culver City may establish a new precedent by adding its own roller rink instead of building a special structure, it is thought an arrangement can be made with Crawford and the Rollerdomes will be utilized.

The municipal dance hall has been introduced in several large cities, and will flash alternately red, white and green, the colors of Capt. Carranza's homeland. As the Agun Campanile Campanile is situated on a bluff more than 125 feet above the hotel and as the bell tower is 125 feet high, Carranza Beacon is expected to send its rays in a radius of twenty-five miles.

The beacon easily will be discernible from San Diego, from ships at sea and to flyers using the San Diego and El Paso-Mexico City airway. A bronze memorial plaque is being cast for installation on the street station in the business district of the heroic episode in the life of Capt. Carranza. The plaque will tell people of the United States and Mexico in closer friendship.

In addition to naming the beacon for the Mexican capital, Long has requested that the city of San Diego name the beacon for the Mexican capital, Long has requested that the city of San Diego name the beacon for the Mexican capital, Long has requested that the city of San Diego name the beacon for the Mexican capital.

EL MONTE GROUP ASKS
TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

EL MONTE, July 22.—Strict enforcement of the two-hour parking ordinance which has been more or less a dead letter in this city was requested of the City Council by the directors of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The board has also requested City Engineer J. C. Ellis to make an extensive study of the street situation in the business district with a view to opening up new streets and widening present ones.

NEW CHURCH
OPENS DOORS

Huntington Park Edifice
Crowded With Friends

Christian Denomination Has Splendid Home

Membership Increased at
First Services

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 22.—Four great congregations were in attendance at the dedication of the new First Christian Church today, two being present this morning when a children's special service was held at 9 o'clock and followed by the regular church service. This afternoon a great lowland meeting was held, and tonight the dedication service was held by Dr. G. W. Waule of Indianapolis, the national director of the Christian denomination.

During the service at the church was appropriate when it was turned over to a service for children. When the service was closed, a number of the little folks signified their intention of becoming members of the Christian Church.

CHURCH CROWDED
The regular morning service found the new edifice crowded with people, many being unable to gain admittance. Dr. Waule, who was at this service, again this afternoon, there was a congregation completely filling the new building, and tonight there were large numbers turned away unable to gain entrance.

A large number of the members and friends of the congregation came early in the morning and remained throughout the day, having brought their lunches, while the ladies of the church served free coffee.

And the day and evening Dr. Cauble delivered three sermons. He has dedicated three other churches in Southern California, one being at Anaheim, one at Alhambra, and one at Glendora. He is leaving within the next day or two for Lexington, Ky., to dedicate another Christian Church.

BUILDING SEATS HUNDREDS
The congregation here, since it was formed, has been worshipping in a small frame building, and from time to time, has been enlarged. The congregation numbered 430 a few weeks ago, but it is expected to increase to more than 850 within the next few Sundays.

The church has a seating capacity of 850 and is equipped with modern lighting and sound equipment. The next unit will contain Sunday school and a large auditorium.

Rev. Robert Newton of Ohio, the pastor, having come here from the Midwest two or three years ago.

SAN FERNANDO ELKS PLAN FRONTIER DAY

SAN FERNANDO, July 22.—With more than 4000 tickets already sold and the various Elks' lodges of Southern California planning in for more reservations, the first annual Frontier Day celebration to be staged by the San Fernando Elks at the Elks' hall in Saugus on August 12, promises to be a definite success.

In addition to the regular rodeo events, there will be an Elks' parade, a sham attack of Indians on a prairie schooner caravan, and a huge Spanish barbecue.

TIA JUANA TO HONOR FLYER

Plans Being Completed for Installation of Aviation
Light to Be Named Carranza Beacon

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—A powerful aviation beacon, designed as a memorial to Capt. Emilio Carranza, will send its brilliant rays from the Tia Juana over the border lands of the two countries that have been united in closer friendship through the efforts of Mexico's martyred flyer.

Carranza Beacon, as the great aerial light is to be named, already has been ordered and is to be placed in operation as soon as possible along the Imperial-Carnegie road, one of the developers of the $1,000,000 hotel, who learned to appreciate the fine qualities of Capt. Carranza when the flyer was recently waiting delivery of his plane, last night.

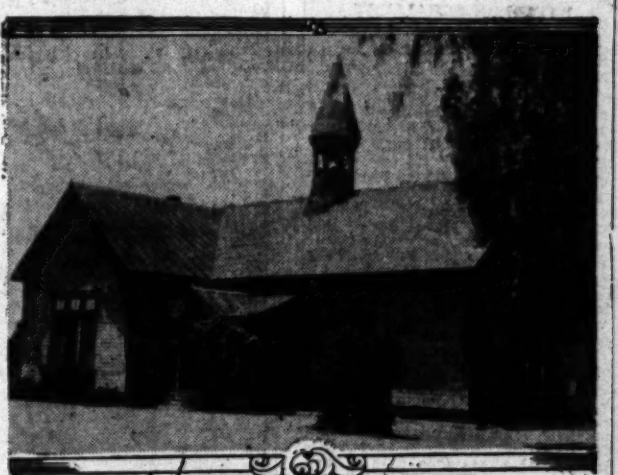

The Agun Campanile beacon, in the Campanile and at present it is being used by giant three-motored planes flying daily between San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Tia Juana.

CEREMONIES PLANNED
Plans are already under way for the dedication of the beacon and the airport. International ceremonies will be held and it is hoped that squadrons of American army and navy planes will fly to take part in the dedication. Gov. A. L. Rodriguez of Lower California will be the guest of honor.

Long is endeavoring to have Maj. Roberto Fierro, prominent Mexican aviator, present to turn on the great beacon. Maj. Fierro recently flew the first Tia Juana biplane from the border city to the Mexican capital and he now is completing plans to fly from Mexico City to Havana, Cuba.

Local aviators who learned to appreciate the skill of Capt. Carranza when he was here to obtain his airplane for his epochal flight to Mexico City today expressed pleasure in the plans to memorialize the achievements of one of the greatest flyers the world has produced.

Capt. Emilio Carranza has not died in vain, one of the local pilots said, "for already the bells of Carranza Campanile are ringing the song of peace over Tia Juana Valley for Mexicans and Americans and soon the quiet border nights will be made brighter with the friendly light coming from the man who created a better understanding between the neighboring peoples."

VALLEY LANDMARK TO BE RAZED
Progress Dooms First Schoolhouse

Relic of Early '70s Will Vanish

Many men and women throughout the Southland trudged miles to obtain an education in this now-antiquated structure in the San Gabriel Valley, which soon will be displaced by a modern educational building.

AZUSA, July 22.—One of the San Gabriel Valley's earliest landmarks, the old Center grammar school here, erected in 1873, must make way for the march of progress. It will be wrecked to make room for erection of a modern school plant, provided for by a recent $40,000 bond issue by the Center school district.

The new building will be constructed on the site of the old structure on Broadway and work will begin as soon as the bonds are sold, according to Volney Spaulding, clerk of the school board.

The old school was the first erected in the valley and was attended by children who at that time were forced to travel miles to gain an education. Many students of Center school are now prominent in various parts of the Southland. The site was donated to Azusa by Larken Barnes, father of W. F. Barnes, veteran land broker.

Two features of the new building will be a modernly equipped cafeteria and a large auditorium.

Craig Freed of Sweeney Murder

SAN BERNARDINO, July 22.—Douglas Craig, rancher of Goffs, was freed today of the charge of the murder of Leo Sweeney of Needles, Judge F. A. Leonard dismissed the charge on the motion of the District Attorney, Sweeney was killed at a schoolhouse dance at Goffs. County authorities were unable to find witnesses needed by the prosecution, the court was told.

SAINT ANA, July 22.—Work is expected to begin August 1 on the widening of Spadra Road between Anaheim and Fullerton on a joint contract between the State, county and road-improvement district, according to County Superintendent of Highways Nat Neff.

Neff said the State Director of Public Works had approved the bid of $33,803.46 submitted for the widening of the road, which is 22 feet wide and 10 feet deep, to be widened to 30 feet and 12 feet deep, respectively.

The widening of the road is part of a program to improve the road between Anaheim and Fullerton, which is one of the busiest roads in the county.

POLICE PISTOL RANGE START BRINGS CROWD

VAN NUYS, July 22.—Three hundred persons including heads of the police department, city officials and members of the Van Nuys Valley club organizations attended the celebration marking the opening of the new police pistol range on a tract on Kester avenue, in the foothills south of Ventura Boulevard.

One of the features was a barbecue dinner served by a noon Robert L. Hanley, Van Nuys attorney, acted as master of ceremonies. Speakers were Councilman Randall Chief of Police Davis and Deputy Chief Finlayson. A program of music was played by the Van Nuys High School band, under direction of Harry E. Ficus.

ONTARIO ARRANGES FOR SPACE AT FAIR

ONTARIO, July 22.—The sum of $500 has been appropriated by the Ontario Chamber of Commerce for use in constructing this city's exhibit for the annual Los Angeles County Fair, to be held at Pomona from September 18 to 25 and already a committee, headed by Will S. Adams, has outlined the general plan of the exhibit which will cover a floor space of 20,000 feet.

The exhibit will feature the front of a Spanish ranch-house on a hill overlooking a prosperous valley dotted with picturesque orange groves. Streams of sparkling water will run from the ranch-house through the valley.

SUNLAND LOSES OLD OAK-TREE LANDMARK

SUNLAND, July 20.—The old oak tree at Michigan and Sherman avenues, estimated by horticulturists to be more than 400 years of age, topped one of the highway after the main trunk of the tree split in half. The tree was more than five feet in diameter and for generations has been a landmark in this section. Sunland is noted for its oak groves. In Sunland Park there are some trees said to be 1000 years old.

Gigantic System

INGLEWOOD, July 22.—Beginning on August 1, the Ingwood Water Company, a private corporation which is not the same as the Ingwood Municipal Water Department, but which owns water from the municipality for supplying an area of some 1500 acres and approximately 2700 service connections in Lennox, unincorporated territory to the south of this city, will be no more.

The company has been purchased by the American States Public Service Corporation, said to be a $60,000,000 public utility company, incorporated under the laws of Delaware but with headquarters in Chicago. The purchase includes seven other similar water companies in Southern California.

Among them being the Claremont Domestic Water Company, the Bell Water Company, the Haynes Canyon Company, the Los Angeles Water Service Company and others.

TRANSFER AUTHORIZED
The California State Railroad Commission has already authorized the sale of these concerns, and a block of $15,000 in bonds for improvements and betterments for the Ingwood public water works hereafter will be known as the Los Angeles and Suburban Water Company.

The purchase price of the Ingwood Water Company, which was $120,000, was $120,000.

TRANSACTION SKEEDED
The purchase of the Ingwood Water Company and the other six concerns included in the deal, was handled by J. W. Sullivan, C. Rath, western division manager of the American States Public Service Corporation, with headquarters in Los Angeles. The deal was made in quick time; three hours after the Ingwood water works were sold, he handed a certified check for $5000 to bind the option.

Mrs. Walter Williams Sees
Pipe, Tobacco, Watch and Chain Found on Skeleton

SAN DIEGO, July 22.—The skeleton found June 21 in Balboa Park has been identified as that of Walter Williams, 3751 Fairmount avenue, it was announced by Coroner S. C. Kelly today.

Identification was made through a leather chain of unique design, a pipe, a can of tobacco and a watch. Kelly said the belongings were identified by Cassie B. Williams, widow of the deceased.

Williams, Kelly said, disappeared from his home November 31. He was 46 years old and employed as a watchmaker. Kelly said the skeleton was found in a shallow grave, and was identified by the belongings found on it.

Williams came to his death by foul means was intimated by Kelly and Mrs. Williams, who had been credited the suicide theory. Had Williams committed suicide, it was pointed out, he probably would have left his auto beforehand and left his belongings in the trunk of the automobile. Williams was wearing when last seen has been found, and the pipe figured prominently in the identification.

SEVENTY HELD IN DRY NET

Bootleg-War Killings Fail to Deter Violators;
Large Amount of Liquor Seized

Seven bootlegging war killings in the last six weeks have failed to dampen the ardor of purveyors of illicit liquor, it was indicated yesterday in the reports made by the vice squads of the various police divisions.

The reports showed that seventy other persons were arrested at the same address and nine men were arrested for possession of more than one gallon of liquor. In a series of raids on bootlegging establishments, 1,388 quarts of home-brewed beer, 119 quarts of gin, and nearly 100 quarts of unadorned liquor were confiscated. Three men were taken into custody for drinking liquor openly in a cafe, and fifty-five men were placed in the City Jail for drunkenness.

At 925 South Vermont avenue police reported they found liquor concealed in a cement underground crypt of the building. The crypt was operated door, Frank G. Beryl and Joe Caputo were arrested.

In a similar raiding place under the front porch at the home of Miss Delmo Enriquez, 31 years of age, at 207 West 18th street, officers reported finding 407 quarts of beer. Miss Enriquez was arrested.

Five pints of nameless liquor in her cellar at 439 1/2 North Concord avenue resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Rebecca Arizular, 29, according to another report.

In an apartment at 748 South Huntington, police reported they discovered Sam Stern, 62, packing 11 quarts of gin into cases, while near by were 57 quarts of beer. In another

STOLEN AUTOS
NOW DECREASE

Police Make Outstanding
Record on Recovery

Ninety-three Per Cent Given
Back to Owners

New System by Detectives
Baffles Thieves

Establishing what is said to be a record, Los Angeles police recovered 92.3 per cent of the automobiles stolen here during the six months from January 1 to June 30, last, according to a report on automobile thefts given out yesterday at the police statistics office.

The report shows that in the six months' period, 213 automobiles were stolen, and 197 were recovered. Giving each car an average value of $300, this represents a recovery of property valued at nearly $100,000.

Indicating that the class of crime has been greatly brought under control are figures showing that while the recovery of stolen cars is unusually large, the total number of cars stolen has not decreased in the last six months, but during the last six months of 1927, total cars stolen stood at 258. During the last fiscal year, 10,811 cars were stolen, as compared with a total of 11,461 for the previous year.

Much of the credit for this record is given by Chief of Detectives Barr, head of the police auto theft detail. Capt. Barr is responsible for the modern scientific system used by the police department in the identification and investigation work in connection with the auto theft detail, which has brought such good results in the last six months.

Details of this system are kept secret by the police so that auto thieves, accustomed to the older methods of police detection, do not know how to cover up the clues which now give the detectives a means of identifying stolen cars.

Sales Office Established by Royal Baking Powder on East Third Street

Los Angeles importance as a national trading and merchandising center has been recognized by another leading national organization, The Royal Baking Powder Company of New York, which has established a branch sales office at 341 East Third street under the direction of J. C. Werden, who has been connected with the company since 1903.

This branch will handle the company's active sales in Southern California and parts of Arizona and Nevada. Announcement of the new office was made in New York yesterday by A. C. Monagle, general sales manager.

Monagle, who has been in charge of the company's sales activities in the West since 1903, said that the new office was being set up to keep in close touch with the sales organization and to increase the company's business in the West.
